SEPTUPLETS REPORT CALLED VULGAR HOAX

Reluctant Lake Ship

The 3,000-ton City of Grand Rapids steamship has arrived at Hamilton, Ont., to be turned into steel scrap. The crew, commanded by Capt. Stewart Bain English, described it as "the ship that does not want to die," because of the delays occurring en route to the scrap heap. The trip from Benton Harbor, Mich., to Hamilton, a distance of about 800 miles by water, took nearly a month as a result of storms.—(CP photo.)

P.C. Spokesman Predicts Tax Cuts

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (CP)—J. M. Macdonnell, Progressive Conservative financial critic, says Finance Minister Abbott is preparing the ground for tax reductions next spring.

Mr. Macdonnell, member for Toronto Greenwood, said in the Commons Thursday that if next spring's budget does not contain tax reductions it will mean there will be no election until 1954.

The tax reductions would come before an election, not when the economic situation made them desirable or when the taxpayers needed them, he said.

"The ordinary taxpayer is tax-angry, inflation-angry and waste-angry," said Mr. Macdonnell.

He was one of several to participate in resumed debate on the Throne Speech.

Dr. William H. McMillan (L. Welland), prominent surgeon from Thorold, Ont., said he favors national health insurance. However, agreement must be reached with the provinces before such a plan becomes effective, he said.

Dr. Raoul Poulin (Ind. Beauce), a physician from St. Martin, Que., said neither the federal government nor the provinces should consider establishment of health insurance programs. They should encourage privately-operated prepaid medical and hospital plans, he said.

Newsprint Price Up

TORONTO, Nov. 27 (AP).—Abitibi Power & Paper Co. Ltd. is advising its Canadian customers that the price of their newsprint will be increased $10 a ton, effective January 1.

The increase is the same as that put into effect for United States customers last June 15, which did not apply in Canada.

Some other Canadian newsprint producers are also understood to have advised their customers of the increase—which will put the price at $122 per ton in Canada, with a 10 per cent federal tax added.

Claxton Backs Bills for Defense

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (CP)—Defense Minister Claxton contends that his department has been doing no more and no less than its duty in accumulating stores for the possible outbreak of war.

Replying in the Commons Thursday to Progressive Conservative charges of waste and extravagance in defense purchasing, he counter-charged that the opposition would be the first to accuse him and the department of negligence if war came and caught them without necessary stores.

He denied that there has been any excessive purchasing and argued that the wonder is that there have not been more errors in a program so large.

In a 40-minute speech devoted entirely to opposition charges on this one subject, he also said:

Stores are bought for four main reasons of which mobilization is only one.

There are constant reviews of purchasing policies and there have been important modifications and will be more.

Mobilization stores are being laid aside for the first three months of any general war.

"I do not think that in any field we will have stockpiled more than we would have required in about a year and a quarter of ordinary current needs. In other words, not a single article has been or will be wasted. Everything will be used," he said.

One possible deduction from his remarks was that the forces plan to mobilize 100,000 men in the first three months of any global war. He said it costs $369 to clothe a regular force recruit and that clothing stocks worth roughly $37,000,000 have been put aside for mobilization in the first three months of war.

He added: "In 1939 three months after we started to mobilize to meet the needs of the Second World War, the strength of the armed forces had increased from their peacetime level by over 60,000.

"I mention that figure to show something of the magnitude of the job that is faced when you begin to talk about mobilization stores. I am not in a position to give the figure of men we would expect to take on in the unfortunate event that there is a third world war but I can assure you the figure is far greater."

NECKTIE STRUGGLE

Later, Donald Fleming (P.C. Toronto Eglinton) said Prime Minister St. Laurent recently told the house more neckties might have been ordered than if the minister or deputy had seen the contract first.

Mr. Claxton earlier had defended the number of neckties bought, and said none were for mobilization. He said all orders had been reviewed by himself or his deputy either before they were placed with the defense production department or later.

He said thousands of items of stores are bought for the armed forces for four reasons—to equip recruits, to replace what servicemen wear out, to have a reserve for varying sizes and for unexpected requirements, and finally for mobilization.

Stalin's Son Reported Hurt

LONDON, Nov. 27 (AP).—The Daily Graphic carries an unattributed report saying that Lt.-Gen. Vassily Stalin, son of the Soviet prime minister, had been injured testing a new jet fighter in Russia.

The foreign office, the defense ministry and the air ministry all said they had heard nothing of such an incident.

Prime Ministers Open Conference

LONDON, Nov. 27 (CP).—The conference of Commonwealth prime ministers has opened.

It got off to a slightly anti-climactic start with a short session at 10 Downing Street tonight.

Prime Minister Churchill greeted delegates, including five other Commonwealth premiers, at his official residence in Whitehall. Friday, the handshakes and the formal welcomes over, delegates get down to the real business of a conference.

Among items slated for discussion, the conference will seek means for giving more freedom and power to the pound sterling.

The conference faces a four-point agenda covering Commonwealth development, and investment programs:

Commodity production.

Sales and prices.

Trade and money policies.

The pound now can be exchanged freely only within the sterling area. This includes all Commonwealth countries except Canada which has a dollar currency.

An official source says Canada, South Africa and Australia intend to press hard for a quick dash toward freeing the pound. These three Dominions are prosperous. They argue that a free pound and a strong pound are indissolubly linked.

The informants said Britain, India, Pakistan, Ceylon, New Zealand and Southern Rhodesia do not accept this view. They hold that there can be no short cuts to currency exchange freedom, which in their view, must come after the sterling group makes its own keep and has enough left over to save for hard times. Britain has made it plain that the whole non-Communist world must get together to set freer and broader trade patterns. She aims thus at building up a vast, unhampered trading area taking in the Commonwealth, non-Communist Europe and the dollar countries.

Blast Takes Student's Hand

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27 (CP)—A University of British Columbia student lost his left hand in an explosion Thursday when a stunt to pep up interest in a student meeting backfired.

Robert Tappay, 23, an advance student in chemistry, had loaded his car with explosive chemicals for a bonfire and display.

Tappay was sitting in the parked car when a shattering explosion threw him out of the vehicle. The blast shattered front and back car windows and lifted the hood and trunk door.

Tappay was in serious condition in hospital three hours after the accident.

Murder Suspect

Mrs. June Armstrong, 24, of Holland Marsh, Ont., has her three-week-old baby with her in Toronto's Don Jail where she is held on a charge of murder. It is believed to be the first time a mother and infant have been kept in the jail. Mrs. Armstrong is charged with stabbing to death Walter Coleman, 38, at Holland Marsh, 40 miles north of Toronto, September 21. She gave birth to her baby in hospital after being transferred from jail. She will be tried in January. Mrs. Armstrong, mother of two other children, refuses to part with her baby, police officials say.—(CP photo.)

U.S. Planes To Base In Canada

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (CP)—The Canadian government, after some hesitation, has authorized United States fighter squadrons to operate in Canada in peacetime.

This latest step in the integration of the air defense systems of the two countries meets U.S. wishes to have elbow room north of the border for defense of U.S. cities and installations and for training for that defense.

The reason for Canada's hesitation is her own special emphasis on a fighter force as the key to the defense program. It struck some persons in authority as anomalous that a foreign power should send fighter squadrons into a country that is plunging heavily on fighter squadrons itself—and sending nearly half of them out of the country to share in the defense of Europe.

These qualms were overcome, however, apparently with arguments that any U.S. squadrons that do come will have the same purpose as the radar stations that country is building on Canadian soil—the defense of U.S. cities and installations.

Tacoma Crash Kills Thirty

TACOMA, Nov. 28 (AP)—A four-engined air transport inbound from Alaska crashed in thick fog on the outskirts of Tacoma early today.

A state patrol radio operator said first reports from patrolmen at the scene were that "30 are dead so far." Several survived, radio operator C. J. Williams said, and were taken to Tacoma hospitals.

The number aboard the transport was not known immediately.

The crash occurred in a residential area about one mile north of McChord Air Force Base, for which the plane was bound. Witnesses said the transport crashed in an open space and did not hit any houses.

All but the tail of the transport burned.

Raymond Hall, a pharmacist, who was one of the first to reach the plane, said bodies were strewn over a large area, some at least 200 feet from the wreckage.

Hall said he was told there were five or six children and "several" babies aboard the transport.

One woman passenger was thrown from the transport, still strapped to her seat, Hall said.

Trunk Murderess Escapes Hospital

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 27 (AP).—Winnie Ruth Judd, the mad murderess, has broken out of the state hospital for the insane for the sixth time.

She fled Thursday through a hole sawed in a heavy mesh screen on a ward window, and vanished into the chill night.

The 48-year-old red-haired trunk killer of 21 years ago chose a quiet Thanksgiving Day evening to slip away.

"We're quite sure she had outside help," said Dr. M. W. Conway, hospital superintendent.

Dr. Conway said Mrs. Judd complained of a headache and announced she was going to take a bath.

Carrying a robe, she went into a bathroom and started water running into the tub, Dr. Conway said he was told. A few minutes later an attendant peeked into the room and found her gone.

Line May Buy Pacific Vessel

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 27 (BUP).—The W. R. Carpenter Shipping Line is reported ready to buy a large passenger ship for the Sydney-Vancouver run if Ms. Aorangi is not replaced by her owners next year.

The 28-year-old Aorangi, a passenger-cargo vessel owned by the Canadian-Australasian Line, will end service next May, leaving only the freighter Lakemba and a few smaller cargo ships on the run.

Hanging Ordered For Czechs

VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 27 (AP).—The Prague purge court has sentenced 11 former Czechoslovak Communist leaders to die on the gallows as confessed traitors who led a Zionist Trotskyite plot to overthrow their pro-Moscow government.

Rudolf Slansky, 51-year-old former boss and hatchet man of Czech Communism, and Vlado Clementis, former foreign minister, headed the roll of the doomed, all but three of whom are Jews.

Three Jewish co-defendants escaped with life terms. The court explained that one of these helped implicate the group and the other two were "merely links" in the purported conspiracy of treason, sabotage and espionage.

Officials Taken In

Chilean Police Charged With Aiding Perpetrators of Story

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 28 (Friday)—(AP)—The federal police at 4 a.m. Victoria time today announced the reported birth of septuplets to a Chilean woman was a "vulgar hoax."

The announcement of the fraud was made by Luis Salamanca, head of the fifth federal police section—the same police official who late Thursday night had told reporters that seven girls had been born.

The report of the births caused great excitement in the Chilean capital. All but one newspaper brought out banner headlines in extra editions to tell their readers the story. High government officials hurried to the clinic where the mother and her babies supposedly had been taken.

Angry newspaper men who had spent the night in front of the clinic said they planned to protest to Chile's new president, Gen. Carlos Ibanez, because Salamanca both verified the report and later denounced it.

Salamanca said the authors of the hoax had sought to gain publicity for a spring festival.

Some newspaper men said that police aided the perpetrators of the hoax, which took in even Senator Salvador Allende, president of the Chilean medical college and vice-president of the national Senate.

When the first report broke it was generally believed to be a prank staged by students celebrating the spring, now arriving in the southern hemisphere.

The later police verification, however, gave credence to the report and brought people rushing to the clinic and the extras to the street.

The morning Catholic Diario Ilustrado devoted eight columns to the story and the influential "El Mercurio" gave it even larger play. Another morning paper devoted all its news columns to the "births." One paper La Nacion identified the report as a student hoax.

C.I.O. Chiefs Remain Deadlocked

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP).—C.I.O. leaders are reported still deadlocked in their attempt to select a new president without a public fight which might leave lasting scars.

More than 700 delegates to the 14th C.I.O. convention are headed for Atlantic City and the showdown on the question of succession. Walter P. Reuther, head of the 1,000,000-member auto workers union, and Allan S. Haywood, supported by the equally large steel workers union, are the only avowed contenders for the job left vacant November 9 when Philip Murray died.

Hotel Loans Draw Query

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27 (CP)—British Columbia's liquor inquiry commission has ordered breweries in Vancouver to produce a list of B.C. hotels to which they have lent $875,000.

Disclosure of the loans to hotels came Thursday after Robert Fiddes, director of Coast Breweries Ltd., told the commission that his company had no interest in any hotel other than loans which took the form of endorsing notes.

Mr. Fiddes said the loans were suggested by the Liquor Control Board to improve the hotels. He said Coast Breweries had loans and advances in the amount of $179,172 but that the total of $875,000 was made by the three breweries in Vancouver jointly.

The commission is inquiring into the best methods of providing for sale of liquor by the glass, approved by British Columbians in a summer plebiscite. Under present B.C. law, beer only is sold in hotel beer parlors or by the Liquor Control Board. Liquor must be bought in government stores.

Under questioning by H. H. Stevens, commission chairman, Mr. Fiddes also said breweries here have been trying to get a price increase for beer for almost a year.

He also disclosed that the three breweries share the liquor board monopoly market on a pro-rata basis: Vancouver breweries, two shares, Coast Breweries, two shares; and Sick's Capilano Breweries, one share.

Company balance sheets read by Mr. Stevens showed the brewing companies paid about $160,000 last year to the B.C. Brewing Association. Mr. Fiddes said this was to help maintain three bodies, the Dominion, the Western and the B.C. Brewing Associations.

"I find some difficulty in reconciling this amount," Mr. Stevens said. "What does this association do? What protection do you get from it?"

"Its business is just to look after the interests of the industry so that each brewery in the province gets the district to which it is entitled," Mr. Fiddes replied. "It keeps the Winnipeg brewers in Winnipeg, the Saskatchewan brewers in Saskatchewan."

Insane Killer Escapes

Flash Spurs Vain Searches

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27 (AP).—A bright flash in the northwest sky—believed to be a meteor—sent U.S. coast guardsmen on two futile hunts for "distress flares" Thursday night.

Shortly after 8 p.m. a tower guard at Alcatraz Prison said he saw a flash over the north end of San Francisco Bay.

An 83-foot patrol boat dispatched to the area found nothing.

A short time later, the Coast Guard station at Fort Bragg, 150 miles up the Northern California coast, sent out a beach party after residents said they saw "a reddish-white glow" in the sky offshore.

The beach party likewise found nothing.

Royal Yacht Can Double as Hospital Ship

This is a model, with sea and sky effects super-imposed, showing the general appearance of design of the Royal yacht now under construction for Queen Elizabeth. The vessel will be completed toward the end of 1953. Accommodations to be used as Royal and state apartments could be converted into hospital wards and operating theatres in wartime, while the sun decks will be strong enough for helicopters to land on with patients. The ship's displacement will be about 4,000 tons. She will be 413 feet long and 55 feet wide.—(Central Press Canadian.)

Large Loans to Hotels By Breweries Queried

Mr. Stevens: "Keeps them in line?"

Mr Fiddes: "Yes."

Mr Stevens: "Does it fix prices?"

Mr Fiddes "No"

Mr Stevens: "I think you would agree that there is a very harmonious relationship between the provincial Liquor Control Board and the brewers' association."

Mr. Fiddes: "We don't have much trouble."

C.I.O. Chiefs Remain Deadlocked

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP).—C.I.O. leaders are reported still deadlocked in their attempt to select a new president without a public fight which might leave lasting scars.

The convention officially starts Monday, but today top C.I.O. leaders, including nine vice-presidents and Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey, meet in executive session to continue talks started earlier this week on the presidency question.

Stalin's Son Reported Hurt

LONDON, Nov. 27 (AP) —The Daily Graphic carries an unattributed report saying that Lt.-Gen. Vassily Stalin, son of the Soviet prime minister had been injured testing a new jet fighter in Russia.

The foreign office, the defense ministry and the air ministry all said they had heard nothing of such an incident.

Septuplets—All Girls—Born To Young Chilean Mother

Babies Reported Well In First Recorded Case

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 27 (AP).—Hospital authorities announced today that a 32-year-old Chilean woman, Caren Molina, gave birth Thursday night to septuplets—seven girls—and that all were alive. The hospital said the mother and all of her daughters were in a satisfactory condition.

The births were confirmed by the federal police.

The first child was reported born at 9.15 p.m. and the seventh arrived an hour and 35 minutes later, at 10.50 p.m., the hospital said.

The hospital said Mrs Molina's husband had left his wife at the hospital and rushed home to take care of their other four children without learning that seven new members had been added to his family.

There is no record of septuplets ever being born alive before. There are two sets of quintuplets alive in the world today—the Dionne quints of Callander, Ont., and Diligenti quints in Argentina.

Two sets of septuplets have been reported born in the last 20 years. Of one group reported to have been born in Nicaragua in 1936, only three were said to have lived and all seven born prematurely to a Cuban woman in 1938 died.

There also have been several reports of sextuplets born—in Africa, Nicaragua and France—in recent years but the reports have not been substantiated.

Newsprint Price Up

TORONTO, Nov. 27 (AP).—Abitibi Power & Paper Co. Ltd., is advising its Canadian customers that the price of their newsprint will be increased $10 a ton, effective January 1.

The increase is the same as that put into effect for United States customers last June 15, which did not apply in Canada.

Some other Canadian newsprint producers are also understood to have advised their customers of the increase—which will put the price at $122 per ton in Canada, with a 10 per cent federal tax added.

Japanese Princess Turns Rancher

Living symbols of the new democracy that Japan has embraced are Princess Yori, 21, daughter of the emperor, and Takamasa Ikeda, 25, a rancher. Honeymooning on the ranch, the couple have become a tourist attraction, as thousands of Japanese, marveling at the change that has come over their country and customs, journey to see them in their new home. Visitors find the emperor's daughter accompanying her husband as he tends his herds. Though both are wealthy, they plan to make the ranch a paying proposition.—(Central Press Canadian.)

Macdonnell Predicts Tax Cuts in Spring

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (CP)—J. M. Macdonnell, Progressive Conservative financial critic, says Finance Minister Abbott is preparing the ground for tax reductions next spring.

Mr. Macdonnell, member for Toronto Greenwood, said in the Commons Thursday that if next spring's budget does not contain tax reductions it will mean there will be no election until 1954.

The tax reductions would come before an election, not when the economic situation made them desirable or when the taxpayers needed them, he said.

"The ordinary taxpayer is tax-angry, inflation-angry and waste-angry," said Mr. Macdonnell.

He was one of several to participate in resumed debate on the Throne Speech.

Dr. William H. McMillan (L.-Welland), prominent surgeon from Thorold, Ont., said he favors national health insurance. However, agreement must be reached with the provinces before such a plan becomes effective, he said.

Dr. Raoul Poulin (Ind.-Beauce), a physician from St. Martin, Que., said neither the federal government nor the provinces should consider establishment of health insurance programs. They should encourage privately-operated prepaid medical and hospital plans, he said.

U.S. Planes To Base In Canada

OTTAWA Nov. 27 (CP) The Canadian government, after some hesitation, has authorized United States fighter squadrons to operate in Canada in peacetime.

This latest step in the integration of the air defense systems of the two countries meets U.S. wishes to have elbow room north of the border for defense of U.S. cities and installations and for training for that defense.

The reason for Canada's hesitation is her own special emphasis on a fighter force as the key to the defense program. These qualms were overcome, however, apparently with arguments that any U.S. squadrons that do come will have the same purpose as the radar stations that country is building on Canadian soil—the defense of U.S. cities and installations.

The Canadian government, however has retained the right to take over any of the assignments given to U.S. squadrons at any time. There is no sign at this stage than any large number of U.S. squadrons is likely to come in even for brief training.

Co-operation Expected

Seaway Delay Minimized

OTTAWA, Nov 27 (CP).—Transport Minister Chevrier says he has confidence in continued Canada-United States co-operation on the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Despite published reports of an 18-month delay in the project he is confident that "we shall proceed with this development in the not-too-distant future."

He spoke in the Commons Thursday after being questioned on an interview in Toronto Wednesday night by G. M. Goetz, counsel for the New York State Power Authority. Mr. Goetz was quoted as saying that, if legal processes were followed in the U.S., the Supreme Court there would be asked to decide which agency would develop the U.S. share of the power in the seaway project.

The 2,200,000 horsepower in the International Rapids section of the St. Lawrence River would be split between the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission and an agency designated later in the United States, under a recent recommendation of the International Joint Commission.

Conditional upon the Ontario-U.S. split on the $450,000,000 power enterprise, the Canadian government has undertaken to build alone the $300,000,000 navigation works to provide a waterway for deep-sea ships between Montreal and Lake Erie.

In the House Thursday Gordon Graydon (P.C.-Peel) asked Mr. Chevrier both as to the suggestion of an 18-month delay on the seaway and as to whether there are likely to be other obstacles to its construction raised.

"It is not surprising that there should be some litigation," the minister replied. "But I should like to say that the co-operation we have received from our United States friends is such that I have confidence it will continue in the present application."

Business Starts Today

Commonwealth Parley Opens

LONDON, Nov. 27 (CP).—The conference of Commonwealth prime ministers has opened.

It got off to a slightly anti-climactic start with a short session at 10 Downing Street tonight.

Prime Minister Churchill greeted delegates, including five other Commonwealth premiers, at his official residence in Whitehall. Friday, the handshakes and the formal welcomes over, delegates get down to the real business of a conference.

Among items slated for discussion, the conference will seek means for giving more freedom and power to the pound sterling.

The conference faces a four-point agenda covering Commonwealth development and investment programs:

Commodity production.

Sales and prices.

Trade and money policies.

The pound now can be exchanged freely only within the sterling area. This includes all Commonwealth countries except Canada, which has a dollar currency.

An official source says Canada, South Africa and Australia intend to press hard for a quick dash toward freeing the pound. These three Dominions are prosperous. They argue that a free pound and a strong pound are indissolubly linked.

The informants said Britain, India, Pakistan, Ceylon, New Zealand and Southern Rhodesia do not accept this view. They hold that there can be no short cuts to currency exchange freedom, which, in their view, must come after the sterling group makes its own keep and has enough left over to save for hard times. Britain has made it plain that the whole non-Communist world must get together to set freer and broader trade patterns. She aims thus at building up a vast, unhampered trading area taking in the Commonwealth, non-Communist Europe and the dollar countries.

Deaths Decreed By Prague Court

VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 27 (AP). The Prague purge court has sentenced 11 former Czechoslovak Communist leaders to die on the gallows as confessed traitors who led a Zionist-Trotskyite plot to overthrow their pro-Moscow government.

Rudolf Slansky, 51-year-old former boss and hatchet man of Czech Communism, and Vlado Clementis, former foreign minister, headed the roll of the doomed, all but three of whom are Jews.

Three Jewish co-defendants escaped with life terms. The court explained that one of these helped implicate the group and the other two were "merely links" in the purported conspiracy of treason, sabotage and espionage.

The Prague Radio Thursday announced the outcome of the week's hearing, marked by virulent anti-semitism and an obvious effort to brand the group as scapegoats for Czechoslovakia's failure to fulfill Russian orders for industrial and war supplies.

Planning Secrecy Cause of Protest

A Gorge Road auto-court owner, J. G. Nordal, has protested to the city of the practice of barring the press from meetings of the town planning commission.

In a letter to city council Mr. Nordal says taxpayers "who may be vitally affected by recommendations" of the T.P.C. learn about them only after they become law in council.

He states that taxpayers are unable to attend all meetings and "are dependent upon the press to keep them informed."

He suggests that applications for rezoning should first go to the council where the press is allowed and then referred to the T.P.C.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

VICTORIA'S city prosecutor is considering laying two charges instead of one against "drinking drivers." In addition to the so-called "driving while faculties are impaired by alcohol" charge, he might also lay a careless or dangerous driving charge. The [illegible] is that too many people are getting off the impaired charge.

Well, if they are so anxious to convict the motorist of something, why not also charge him with possessing narcotics, distributing obscene literature, and theft? If they keep firing enough charges, they're bound to hit him eventually.

On the other hand, if the court finds that he isn't guilty of anything, why not just let him off? Prosecutors are supposed to see that justice is done, even if they have to forego a conviction now and then.

To my mind, the "impaired by alcohol" law is one of the stupidest things ever put on the statute books. A perfectly good drunken driving law existed previously. If a motorist is guilty of drunken driving, charge him with that. If he is guilty of dangerous or careless driving, charge him with that. But to hustle a safe driver into court simply because he has had two glasses of beer, or because a policeman doesn't like his face, is a mockery of justice.

And a shotgun blast of accusations, fired in the hope that at least one pellet will hit its mark, is worse still.

A NEW Canadian Pacific steamship terminal will rise at the heel of exclusive Ten Mile Point, if a Victoria man's scheme finds favor.

C. W. Wilkinson, city truck driver, suggests a dock for Mainland boats at Telegraph Bay. He makes the following points for his plan:

Present C.P.R. wharf is overdue for replacement; in its present place it congests downtown traffic; a Telegraph Bay dock would save residents of Oak Bay, Foul Bay, parts of Saanich and other residential districts from an hour to an hour and one-half sea and land time; as the district grows, a Telegraph Bay site becomes more and more central; the night boat from Vancouver would arrive one hour earlier, and allow quicker delivery of freight and express; Telegraph Bay would provide "fanned-out" routes to reach various parts of the city, and avoid congested traffic points.

Mr. Wilkinson says a Telegraph Bay wharf would be a move in the modern direction—towards decentralizing business and speeding service; would be of strategic value in war; would provide good water depth, sheltered from southeast or southwest winds. He says that one wharf could give better service for the present Victoria-Vancouver service, and replace the Sidney-Steveston ferry by a more convenient Telegraph Bay to Steveston car-passenger service in the tourist season. It would not change the running time to Seattle.

For Lower Island residents, the Telegraph Bay to Steveston route would be much shorter than the new Black Ball route from Departure Bay to Steveston, he says. The Black Ball route totals 119 miles—93 miles by car plus toll charges, and 26 by sea. The proposed Telegraph Bay route would be 68 miles altogether—4½ miles from Fountain Circle this end; 48 miles by sea, and 15½ miles from Steveston to Vancouver.

Islander First In B.C. Field As Hygenist

CAMPBELL RIVER, Nov. 27 (BUP)—A Campbell River woman, Mrs. Norma Bell, today became the first woman dental hygenist in B.C. when she passed tests set by the College of Dental Surgeons of B.C. with first class honors.

She was graduated last June from the University of Oregon School of Dental Hygiene. She will practice in the office of her husband, Dr. K. W. Bell, Campbell River.

High blood pressure is increased through emotional upsets and too strenuous living. Doctors advise a safe diet, reasonable exercise and plenty of rest to help the condition.

Council Approves Debentures Sale

The sale of $420,000 worth of City of Victoria debentures to Pemberton Securities Ltd. and Syndicate for $88.30 each or $371,333, was authorized by city council yesterday.

The securities firm was awarded the sale over four others who had submitted tenders, opened earlier in the day by the finance committee.

All the bids were close. The lowest was $87. The five organizations submitting tenders represented 17 Canadian bond houses.

City Manager Cecil Wyatt, who recommended the sale, observed that all offers were firm. Last year at the same time, the city advertised bonds for sale and could get no firm offers, he pointed out.

Of the issues sold $358,000 were school debentures and $62,000 local improvement debentures.

Suit Claims Right-of-Way Out of Order

Mrs. Jessie Caldwhead Edward, 426 Arnold Street, has brought a suit against the city to prevent it from taking a piece of property she alleges belongs to her and using it as right-of-way for a sidewalk.

Mr. Justice H. S. Wood of the BC Supreme Court heard the case of the 80-year-old widow yesterday. The hearing will con[illegible]

Mrs. Edward's property is bounded by Hamley Street on the north and it was along Hamley the city intended to construct a sidewalk. Mrs. Edward instituted legal proceedings after surveyors had visited the scene.

She claims the city has no right to the land it intends to use for the sidewalk and is appealing to the court for a declaration that no highway exists there, and an injunction preventing city men from using it.

Mrs. Edward contends that construction of a sidewalk would require destruction of a hedge planted around her house in 1945 and the cutting of certain trees and shrubs.

Province Divorce Rate Increases

The number of divorces granted rose 15 per cent in British Columbia during the first nine months of 1952, the provincial department of health and welfare reported today. There were 1,105 divorces during the period.

Other statistics released by the health department showed 20,987 births in British Columbia to the end of September, an increase of 871 over the same period of 1951. Of these, 1,159 were illegitimate, an increase of 15 per cent over the illegitimate birth rate of the corresponding period last year.

There were 8,648 deaths, 305 more than last year, giving the province a rate of natural increase per 1,000 of 14.1.

Infant mortality showed a slight increase for the second successive year. There were 532 deaths this year, 501 in 1951, and 452 in 1950.

Maternal mortality continued to decline as it has for the past several years. British Columbia's rate for the first three quarters of this year is 0.7 per 1,000 births.

Heart diseases accounted for 38 per cent of all deaths.

Accidental deaths claimed 684 lives during the first nine [illegible] than for the same period last year. Several serious plane crashes increased deaths from this cause to 45, compared with only three to the end of September last year. These deaths accounted for the greatest portion of the increased accidental deaths.

There were fewer marriages recorded in British Columbia so far this year than in 1951.

The man or woman who plans retirement should have some compensatory hobby to keep mind and hands occupied. People often find that the sudden change from a busy life to an idle one affects the health adversely.

Rail Conciliators Suggest 16-Cent Pay Raise

OTTAWA Nov 27 (CP) The federal conciliation board on the railway labor dispute slicing union demands sharply has recommended an average 16-cents-an-hour increase for non operating rail workers.

The majority finding of the three-man board made public Thursday proposed for the 114 000 union employees a little more than one-third what they asked in wage boosts, granted them two other demands and rejected two

The report aimed at settlement of a four-months-old dispute between the major railways and unions that staged a paralyzing strike in 1950 is not binding on the disputants. It may form a basis for negotiation

The majority finding was signed by Mr Justice R L Kellock of the Supreme Court of Canada board chairman and Paul Smith Montreal lawyer and nominee of the railways on the board.

A minority report by the board's union nominee suggested a 26-cent boost the unions asked for 45- and went along with other union points It was written by David Lewis, Toronto lawyer

There was no immediate reaction to the findings either from head offices of the major railways at Montreal or from a 100-man meeting of the general conference committee of the 17 railway unions in session there.

The majority wage finding would cost the roads $50,000,000 a year for those directly affected and $56,000,000 if extended to all employees The comparative figures for the minority recommendations are $83,000,000 and $90,000,000

They would be the equivalent of the yield from freight rate increases of between 10 and 11 per cent in the case of the majority finding and 17 and 19 per cent in the minority case.

Once a wage increasing agreement was nailed down, it is expected, the railways will quickly apply to the Board of Transport Commissioners for rate increases to cover the full amount of the settlement.

The two findings were in agreement officially only on the check-off of union dues by the companies on the basis that it would be compulsory on the part of the railways and voluntary and revocable by individual union members.

Mr Lewis did not mention the point in his report, but presumably he also agreed with the majority finding in favor of a union demand for elimination of a 1950 contract clause restricting overtime pay by employees in the event of a proclaimed national emergency.

On other issues, the majority:

Ruled against a union-demanded escalator clause in contracts providing for a one-cent-an hour increase in wages for every point increase in the old cost-of-living index from last September 1.

Turned down a union call for the union shop

Mr Lewis found in favor of the union shop and the escalator clause

In Thursday's findings, those who wrote both the majority and the minority reports figured out a compromise between the views of the railways and unions on the principle of how a wage increase should operate Each split the effective increase between the percentage boost asked by the railways and the across-the-board, cents an hour increase asked by the union

The negotiations will have direct and indirect effects on about 1,000 Vancouver Island railwaymen.

Hanoi Still Calm In Face of Assault

HANOI Indo-China Nov 27 (UP) Live happily but live calmly for tomorrow you may die

The "front" of communist-led rebels snakes crazily sometimes 30 sometimes 10 sometimes 50 miles away The only way through the red lines is colonial highway five to Haiphong Highway five is well defended but the Reds strike often to raids

There is no terrorism and little excitement in this northern "capital" today but death is very near Two years ago Red bombs crashed in the bright sidewalk cafes

Paratroopers jumped recently over the bridgehead at Phule, but news is slow in the interest of troops involved in the operation"

In the Chinese and Viet Nam quarters where most of the city's 280,000 inhabitants live there are only 1,500 Frenchmen everyday life goes on as if the enemy were not at Hanoi's gates.

Premier N'Guyen Van Tam, although a southerner enjoys much esteem and respect here He is mostly known for his modesty and honesty and for the cut in prices of rice.

Bao Dai's prestige is much below that of Van Tam

Many Viet Nam soldiers can be seen in the streets General N'Guyen Van Hinh the premier's son has come to boost their morale He has a plan, a method and travels extensively. He is the only man capable of stemming by his intelligent and sincere nationalism the influence of the communists among loyal troopers

Gen Van Hinh knows that only the Viet Namese will be able to pacify Viet Nam. The French can only fight

Hanoi has known too much of a war to get excited Even when Langson and Caohang were overrun, there was no panic in this northern capital

Although merchants take certain precautions most Frenchmen are confident Nobody among the local population believes the Viet Minh will win at least not shortly and some sounded out the opinion on the other side of the front line where there seems also to be some doubt about the final outcome of the struggle

All Viet Namese no matter what their social condition, want an independent country but few of them desire a departure of the French.

After so many years the northern Viet Namese are used to living side by side with Frenchmen The Viet Minh rebels propaganda cannot claim much success among town populations and even less among the peasants

The morale of French union troops remains high.

Price Spread Draws Query

VANCOUVER Nov 27 (CP) — Kenneth Kiernan, British Columbia agriculture minister, said Wednesday the price spread between what the producer receives and the consumer pays appears "on the surface at least" to be unreasonable

"Our department is going to keep a little closer eye on what is going on" the minister told the annual convention of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture The department recognized however there are many costs in distribution he said

Mr Kiernan mentioned the difference in price between that paid to the farmer for beef and that charged at retail counters for hamburger but gave no figures

He said those who hold back produce on prospect of higher prices later cannot claim any priority on the local market Prices which are too high he said, mean lower consumption which eventually hits the producer

The minister made no comment on the main issue before agriculture in recent years school taxes on land but hinted action on these projects

Provision for a full-time soil analyst to advise on fertilizer requirements for any farm

Establishment of an agriculture school for those who wish to farm

A subdepartment for farm co-operatives in the agriculture department

Subsidization of rural power line extensions on prospect of development where such extensions now are uneconomic

The old saying, "Feed a cold and starve a fever" isn't compatible with modern medical belief A cold should be treated with plenty of liquids and bed rest if possible

Cooks, Clerks Now Apple Of Canadian Army's Eye

OTTAWA Nov 27 (CP) The army is preparing an attack to win two battles: find enough men to cook its meals and push its pens

For a long time the army has been confronted with the fact that not nearly enough young Canadians want to be army cooks and army clerks

There also is a shortage of young men to blow the army's musical instruments and run its other trades

So from one side the army is opening up greater opportunities For the first time it has become possible for cooks or clerks to progress up to commissioned rank and to become lieutenants or captains in those special fields getting what are called classified commissions

One general had his young son come back from cadet camp this summer with an opinion the general could only consider profound The youngster said "The army would be a lot better off if it spent less money on food and more on cooks"

Something of that revolutionary spirit has crept into the new era

On the other flank the army is attacking with a revival of the boy soldier apprentice plan It will be touched off in January when an estimated 200 16-year-olds go to five training schools to learn various trades

Some will become cooks some clerks some bandsmen the army is so short of bandsmen it is recruiting them abroad some engineers some wireless operators other mechanics and other types of tradesmen

An Important Decision

THE decision of certain Oak Bay and Victoria City municipal staffs to refrain from wage increase applications in the coming year may turn out to be one of the most important and far-reaching steps taken on this issue, not only in this region but also throughout the province generally. The choice squares with cost of living indices which have remained fairly static in the last six months, but it goes beyond that into the essential ingredients of co-operation and good will in difficult times. It is about the most encouraging sign one has observed in the Greater Victoria area this year.

If this lead were followed it would do much for the enhancement of a real community effort to curb the tragic spiral of inflation, which has made nobody the richer and many the poorer in the struggle for adjustment between prices and wages. If the public generally would stand on the same line and endeavor to hold it much might be accomplished. Living costs do not need to go up in this country at this time. A conscious effort by all citizens, with as much good will as these few municipal groups have shown, might well snowball into far-reaching results. Not only is it worth a fair trial, but it is also the one thing that the public could do for itself. If all individuals were agreed that a ceiling had been reached that would be an immediate stabilizing factor in our economy.

Sometimes important actions begin with a single step. If the lead given by these Victoria groups and now widening to Vancouver Island and perhaps other British Columbia bodies is followed, the year 1953 can indeed become one of fresh promise and encouragement for British Columbia. This is a sound, long-headed move, a credit to its originators and fully in accord with a more realistic appreciation of present times.

Persevering for Peace

AT least it cannot be said that in the United Nations the west gives up easily. With a patience that sometimes seems incredible it refuses to take no for an answer. In the face of the most adamant Soviet stands it persists in seeking some formula which might heal a breach not of its own making. For its part, it seems, peace shall not go by sheer default.

The Indian proposal for dealing with the prisoner question in Korea, ostensibly the only stumbling block to an armistice, is another illustration of the west's perseverance. Before even it has reached the stage of debate, and after considerable western compromise and conciliation, Russia's Mr. Vishinsky announces flatly that the plan is no good, that Communist China has turned it down. Even this summary denial will be side-stepped. Delegates will regard the Chinese rejection merely as an objection, and continue to hope for the Indian proposal's adoption.

Meantime men vitally affected by cease-fire negotiations, the U.N. troops in Korea, are pinning their faith on the forthcoming visit to that theatre of war by General Eisenhower. Victoria soldiers home from the battlefield bring back that word. What the general can accomplish is none too clear, since the Korean campaign is not a one-nation affair and not even the President of the United States can go it alone in this matter, allowing for the sake of argument that there will not always be a Mr. Vishinsky waiting to turn a thumb downwards.

The world will await the result of General Eisenhower's trip with deep interest, and if by some presently unthought of means he can secure an honorable settlement he is assured of deep western gratitude.

Standardizing Small Arms

STANDARDIZATION of small arms and ammunition for N.A.T.O. forces appears closer to realization than at any time during the past several years of amicable disagreement between the United Kingdom and United States governments. A recent statement by Prime Minister Churchill in the House of Commons has been interpreted to mean that the British government is now ready to accept the new .30-calibre rifle of United States design as standard for the equipment at some future date of United Kingdom servicemen. By that arrangement production would be standardized on both sides of the Atlantic, weapons and parts would be interchangeable in the field, and small-arms ammunition would be uniform, greatly simplifying supply in action.

Although the new weapons designed in America have features differing from those of the semi-automatic rifles and carbines with which U.S. troops have been equipped since the beginning of the Second World War, the calibre remains unchanged. The British ordnance corps, however, had designed and Mr. Attlee's government had adopted for early production a new rifle which not only is a revolutionary departure from the bolt-action rifle with which United Kingdom and Dominion troops long have fought, but also is bored to take a .28-calibre bullet. This would have meant that though U.K. and U.S. troops might be in action side by side, separate supply lines would have to be maintained to keep them in ammunition. After experience in the last war it had been hoped that duplication of that sort could be eliminated in the future.

The decision of Mr. Churchill's government is a major recession from the adamant attitude of the Labor administration, convinced that the new British rifle was superior in performance to the American weapon. If standardization were to be achieved, however, someone had to yield; and weight of numbers on the United States side no doubt was the deciding factor. To the clear-sighted Mr. Churchill with his knowledge of the needs of allied armies in battle, the concession must have appeared worth making in order to assure co-ordination of supply of munitions.

TAX ON A TAX

Sir,—It is interesting to read that British Columbia bulb growers are protesting the 10 per cent federal tax. Few people realize that from every bunch of flowers and box of plants grown Mr. Abbott has first pick of 10 per cent, and then the other gent from Victoria helps himself to 3 per cent, plus a further 3 per cent on the tax already paid to Mr. Abbott.

I believe I am right in saying that the majority of flower and plant growers in Canada are in the same income brackets as the average trade unionist and small business man. Now I wonder just what sort of a howl would go up from the unions and chambers of commerce if their members generally had 10 per cent of their income deducted. 'Tis true in theory these taxes are passed on to consumers, but theory and practice do not always agree as a perusal of flower prices over the last few years against rising costs elsewhere would prove.

OBJECTIONABLE LITERATURE

Sir, With this discussion of obscene literature and salacious books and magazines, please allow me a presentation regarding the abolishment of such filth from our midst.

It is recognized that there are some aspects of human life which are not very edifying for adults, let alone minors, in fact they are disedifying. A picture of a man's tortured, distorted face just after his stomach has been crushed by the wheels of a truck isn't very edifying. We are simply seeing a man who, temporarily, is seemingly completely dominated by that physical part of our nature, the animal part.

Through an accident, a man has become only temporarily and in appearance, of course, like a wounded animal. To look upon such a picture with complete indifference is to be something less than human. Yet to be engrossed by it, even for only a few seconds, is to be engrossed with the sub-human aspects, and they are only aspects of human life. No one is ever edified, that is, becomes more human, by such engrossment with the sub-human; instead, the effect will be exactly the opposite. That is why such things should be kept out of the public eye, kept off the screen. They are obscene.

The Grecians recognized this long before our time, but also many people know it today, and are making the worst use of it among our youth. They are using this form of disedification to weaken our concept of the values in human relations . . .

TELEVISION CONTROL

Sir,—In consideration of the present controversy concerning the C.B.C. and private radio and TV operation, some might be interested in the following resolution recently passed by the University of British Columbia C.C.F. Club.

"Whereas private broadcasting stations have amply demonstrated their lack of social and cultural responsibility to the Canadian people and whereas the C.B.C. stands as Canada's defense against rampant commercialization of the media of television and radio, and in light of the recommendations of the Massey report, we resolve that this executive approve the principle of a public regulatory organization, such as the C.B.C. in the fields of radio and television broadcasting. We condemn the efforts of private pressure groups and 'free enterprise' political parties to undermine and destroy the C.B.C. and the principles for which it stands."

THE SOIL AND NATURE

Sir, No farmer or dairyman can fail to be interested in the written testimony of one Newman Turner, a Lincolnshire farmer who attributes unqualified success to the laws of nature, claiming that they provide the necessary ingredients capable of transforming the poorest of farms into dividend producers and preventing soil erosion. He strongly deprecates the get-rich-quick methods of commercialized science which, he says, are a snare.

By his methods he claims to possess the keys to successful agriculture and animal husbandry that will free the land of disease and give much greater production on less capital outlay with less labor costs, also effecting an immense saving in artificial manures, and veterinary and medicine bills.

Thinking Aloud

". . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

A TORONTO colonel says that more than 50 per cent of Canadian youths trying to get into the armed forces are physically unfit.

Actually, of course, they're not. Many of them will live to a grand old age and never see a doctor, outreaching even the officials who rejected them. They are unfit only by service standards. This makes a great deal of difference.

The armed forces are inhibited by thoughts of a large national pension bill. They're afraid lest minor defects are magnified on discharge into claims that a disability was due to military service, and they lean backwards to avoid this by setting up a super-physical standard for the recruit to meet.

When wars come along the picture changes. At the beginning only Samson or Apollo can get into a uniform, but after a while the choice becomes much less pernickety. The physical charts are revised downwards. Yet the same kind of fitness is required of the serviceman in the last few months of a war as in the first.

Physical perfection depends on who sets the standards.

* * *

You may note this particularly in the case of athletes. The number of big time games players who are turned down for military service is amazing. Of all men these are individuals who seemingly should be fighting fit for any strenuous adventure.

Recruiting officers don't agree. They discover flat feet, weak knees, unstraight backs and a host of other defects the athlete never knew he had and which on rejection don't prevent his resumption of hard physical activity on the playing field.

Fitness itself is many-sided. Size has nothing to do with it nor sheer brute strength. Many a slip of a man can march, withstand hardship, even fight better than his much bigger comrade in arms. Endurance, a quality that counts a lot on active service, is compounded of the spirit as well as of inner strength of body.

* * *

The Toronto colonel is perturbed lest the large percentage of "unfit" candidates for the armed services is evidence of a weakening of the national stamina. This relates of course to the softer life that inevitably follows in the wake of increased standards of living.

History is full of empires that waxed fat and then fell before more spartan enemies. Our grandfathers were probably much tougher men than we are. People belong to their environment. Easy chairs, push-button amenities, cars, plush foods, delightful though they are, are not conducive to hardiness.

Western forces in the field have found this out. It takes many more men on our part to keep one man in the combat line than it does either Russia or China. Our supply lines must be leavened with delicacies because we're not used to austere living. Less favored individuals in this sense can cope better with primitive conditions.

This would suggest that Western man and particularly the white man, is not so physically fit as his opposite number and that is probably true. It is his superior technical talents and production genius that in the main enables him to hold his own. Providentially enough the facilities he has devised to soften his mode of living come to his rescue when military harshness becomes his lot.

Yet, looking back, one must admit that the "unfit" Canadian youths of 1939 and there were as many of them than as in 1952 by recruiting standards proved to have a sound core of inner fitness when once the die was cast and they put on a uniform.

Chinese-Soviet Friendship Month

BY W. N. EWER, From London

THE Chinese - Soviet Friendship Month which opened on November 7 (the anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917) is an exceedingly interesting event. It is being celebrated in China with a maximum of zeal, of publicity and according to all official accounts, of enthusiasm. On the other hand in the Soviet Union it appears to be attracting remarkably little notice. But that is perhaps not surprising. For by a strange coincidence, all the European satellite countries have decided to have Friendship Months at the same time. And it might be confusing for the Soviet citizen to have to be celebrating so many friendships all at once.

The interesting and significant thing about the Sino-Soviet friendship celebrations in China is that they suggest that a change is coming over the relations between the Chinese and Soviet governments. There is a new note in all the official and semi-official voices.

It has been the habit of the Chinese Communist leaders since they came to power whenever they spoke, as they frequently did, of the friendship and of the alliance between the two countries to do so in careful language. Careful in that they were always at pains to avoid any phrases which might imply any inequality in the relationship, any inferiority in status on the part of China. Their language was in sharp contrast to the subservient phrases which are constantly on the tongues of Communists in the European satellite states. They would, for example, speak of Stalin as the "Great Friend" or the "Great Ally"—sometimes as the "Teacher", never as the "Leader" except of the Soviet people.

* * *

That has all changed. As fraternal delegate to the Soviet Communist Party Congress last month, Liu Shao Chi, like any Bulgarian or Rumanian, hailed Stalin as "the Great Teacher and Leader of all the peoples of the world." This month Chu Hsueh Fan, minister of posts and telecommunications, has spoken of China and Communist Vietnam as members of the camp of peace and democracy "headed by the Soviet Union." The implied acceptance of Soviet hegemony is strikingly new.

Premier Chou en Lai at a Peking celebration of the Soviet Revolution, began his speech in the old style with a reference to Stalin as "the most respected and beloved friend of the Chinese people." But at the end he seemed to remember the new line and added the title "Leader". "Leader of the working people of the whole world." And the greater part of the speech was devoted to effusive thanks for the "selfless help" being given to China by the Soviet Union, including it seems the "selfless" willingness to continue to occupy Port Arthur as a Russian naval base. This, said the Chinese premier, had been received by the Chinese people "with enthusiasm and acclamation."

* * *

In all the reported celebrations speaker after speaker after an evidently prearranged pattern, spoke of the gratitude which the Chinese owe to the Russians, and attributed all achievement to Russian teaching and Russian aid. "Every one of the major innovations introduced into the northeast area during this year was either suggested by Soviet experts or was drawn from advanced Soviet experience", the people of Mukden were told.

Newspaper articles harped on the same theme. "We must strive to learn from the Soviet Union . . . we are profoundly grateful to all the Soviet specialists who are working industriously in China," writes the Peking people's daily. "We deeply feel and appreciate Comrade Stalin's solicitude for the people of China. We deeply love Comrade Stalin," says the Liao Ting Pao.

* * *

What does it all mean? One can quite well understand that a month of intensive propaganda of this sort may be felt necessary in order to reconcile the Chinese to the omnipresence of Russian "specialists" and to make them feel "grateful" to Russia for occupying Port Arthur and exploiting Sinkiang. It may well be that there has been some grumbling and that remedial measures were badly needed. But that is only half the story.

The more important and significant fact is the fact that, since Chou En Lai's mission to Moscow in August and September, the Chinese government is showing itself willing as it was not before to accept the definitely subordinate role in the alliance, to recognize the leadership of the Soviet Union and of Stalin personally, to admit the predominant role of the Soviet specialists in internal Chinese affairs.

The prolongation of the occupation of Port Arthur by the Russians is symbolic. Militarily it is of no consequence. The Chinese army is quite capable of defending Port Arthur without the assistance of a few thousand Russians. But as he showed so clearly in his broadcast at the end of the Japanese war the regaining and retention of the Tsar's proudest acquisition in the Far East is for Stalin a point of pride. It is the outward and visible sign of Russia's dominance. When in the Moscow negotiation the Chinese government not only accepted it but agreed to ask for it they were accepting the subordinate role and the inferior status in their relationship to the Soviet Union. China was ceasing to become the Asian ally of a European power and becoming a satellite of the empire which has been pressing upon her since Muraviev's troops crossed the Amur just on a century ago. The purpose of this Friendship Month is to reconcile the Chinese people to their new dependence on Moscow.

The Price of Protection

(From The Winnipeg Free Press)

IF anyone in this country believes that tariffs are trifling things, the new program of protection for agriculture in Switzerland should prove instructive.

In a referendum on March 30 this year the Swiss voted in favor of a law whose declared objective was to promote and safeguard the country's agriculture by protecting it from outside competition.

Now a study has been carried out in Switzerland to determine what this program will cost. The results are reported in the current issue of Foreign Agriculture, a U.S. Department of Agriculture publication.

The study showed that it will cost each Swiss consumer something like $18 a year in extra food bills to prevent the free entry of food from outside. Six cents will represent the cost of sheltering domestic production.

Lest anyone think otherwise there are those who would have the people of this country pay just as heavy if not a heavier price for shielding particular Canadian industries from competition.

The study that was carried out also showed that, compared with a situation free from all measures of protection, the present scheme was accounting for one-quarter of the gross returns of the agricultural industry of Switzerland.

With financial gains of this size to be made it is small wonder that certain industries in Canada press so hard for special privileges.

The new Swiss program empowers the federal government to step in and restrict imports whenever it appears that agricultural prices have fallen so low as to discourage farmers from remaining on the land.

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

ANYBODY can act on the radio, because he can hold the script right in his hand and never miss a syllable. But television is like the stage. The actors have to learn their lines, as for the stage. It is true that on television, unlike the stage, you can use a blackboard and chalk the lines of the speech a performer has to make in large print and set it just out of sight of the camera so that it can be read by the actor. You will note in television the amateur often glancing off slightly to the left or right and down. He is reading from a blackboard.

In movies too either the lines or cues are sometimes chalked up in this fashion for the actor to read, unseen by the audience. On the stage, especially in opera, there is a prompter's box modestly jutting up over the edge of the footlights in which the prompter hides with the score, to remind the singers or actors in a low voice of their next lines. You can sometimes hear the prompter above the music in the soft bits.

Lately I have been obliged to appear in a small part in a documentary motion picture in which I had to learn as much as seven lines. I found the most extraordinary difficulty in memorizing them. Poetry you can memorize because it is cut nicely into stove lengths with rhymes on the ends like little bells to tinkle in your memory. But plain prose is very hard to memorize, especially unenlightened prose like a commercial or like this.

On the set with me were several professionals who after one glance at the script performed what seemed to me a miracle of memorization. They had it word perfect in one try. I "fluffed," as they call it, three times, so that the camera had to grind my part out over and over.

In self-defense I merely said that actors found it easy to memorize because they had nothing much else on their minds. At the conclusion of the filming the actors went home in one taxi and I went in another. One must be very particular in figuring out excuses for one's self.

Well-Known Clubwoman Dies in City

Funeral services for Mrs. Wilhelmina Margaret Hopkins of Glebe Terrace, a well-known Victorian clubwoman, will be held at McCall's Funeral Home today at 11.30 a.m.

MRS. A. E. HOPKINS

Mrs. Hopkins, who has been a resident of Victoria for the past 30 years, died Tuesday at the age of 64.

The late Mrs. Hopkins was a past president of the Local Council of Women and for the past 20 years has been a member of the women's auxiliary to St. Mary's Anglican Church, Oak Bay. She was also a past regent of the Camosun Chapter, I.O.D.E.

She is survived by her husband Albert E. Hopkins.

Victoria Still Preens Because of Fog Lack

Victoria was still preening itself last night because of good weather while Vancouver and other Mainland ports were reported to be slowly coming out of a fog.

The B.C. Pilotage said last night four ships have emerged from the dense fog around Van- [illegible] out to sea.

Three pilots still on vessels in English Bay are waiting for their skippers to find which way is out.

Shipping to the Mainland area has been at a standstill for the past two days in what is described as "fog thicker than curdled pea soup."

Yesterday 10 ships sat in English Bay awaiting a chance to enter the harbor and two more that ventured into the harbor couldn't find the docks.

"We think it must be clearing up over there now, though," a pilotage official said last night.

Patricia Bay Airport was reported clear last night, but business was in a fog because of canceled flights from the Mainland.

Planes flying from Eastern Canada to Vancouver were halted at Abbotsford, 30 miles east of Vancouver and passengers spent two or three hours on buses finishing their journey.

Visibility in downtown Vancouver has been reduced to a few feet at the worst times. There have been a number of car collisions involving several cars. One crash yesterday involved 10 cars.

All outdoor work and other activity was suspended for the 500 inmates of the British Columbia Penitentiary at New West- [illegible]

Officials at the prison said the fog was too much of a temptation for prisoners who might be thinking of escape. Two did escape from Oakalla prison farm on Wednesday but were recaptured.

Vancouver detectives reported no major crimes yesterday as the underworld apparently also was bogged down in the fog.

Mrs. Bewley Elected by Club

Mrs. A. Bewley became the new president of the Langford Community Club at a combined reorganizational and annual meeting Wednesday evening.

During the meeting J. F. Williams, a representative of the Langford School Board, Sooke district No. 62, urged members to support the school's by-law that will go before the ratepayers in January.

The proposed by-law is for buildings and equipment in the district.

Other officers elected at the annual meeting were A. F. Wale, honorary president; T. K. Buxton, vice-president; Owen McLeod, secretary, and Mrs. Doris Braithewaite, treasurer.

R. Freemantle, Allan Bodnan, A. Kiteley, Earle Powell, Mrs. T. Horte, Ron Liner and Mrs. W. Kolinski were elected directors.

Meetings of the club will be held the fourth Wednesday of each month in the Langford Community Hall at 8 p.m. An executive meeting will be held in the hall Monday at 8 p.m.

China Not at War With Anybody, Says Speaker

China is not at war with anybody, peace conference delegate Elgin Neish told a public meeting last night.

"The U.N. does not recognize Communist China, therefore it cannot be at war with them. They consider China to a vacuum," he said.

Speaking to a large audience in the Aragon Ballroom on the Asian Peace Conference held recently in Peking, he blamed "power blocking" by the United Nations as one of the main [illegible] peace in Korea.

Mr. Neish told his audience the people of China are fervently hoping for world peace and are enthusiastic about the progress of the world peace movement.

"They are not interested in who fired the first shot in Korea, they just want to see it ended soon," he said.

China's economy is now at the highest level it has ever been in the history of the country, he said. Her export trade is up 60 per cent over 1936, and although the state owns 78 per cent of the heavy industry, private enterprise is allowed to make a profit of from 15 to 40 per cent on manufactured goods.

"What are the tax scales on that profit?" he was asked.

"How should I know. I didn't ask the men how they spent their money, that is their business, [illegible]

An appeal drawn up at the conference to the people of the world was read out in full by Mr. Neish. It accused the United States of non-co-operation and aggression.

"If the money and effort that is used to make war was turned to peace we would be far ahead today," Mr. Neish said.

"They want peace on their own terms, they want to communize the world," he was charged by one listener.

"China is not a Communist country. They just have a Communist government," Mr. Neish said. "Canada has a Liberal government but we are not a Liberal country."

During the oral question session, many questioners were told "This is a peace meeting, sit down and shut up. We are not interested in the Communists."

Mr. Neish applauded the action of newspaper men who attended the conference as observers and said more impartial observers should have been there if they were as interested in peace as they claimed.

"I asked the mayor of Victoria to attend but he just laughed at the suggestion and would have nothing to do with it. Perhaps he is afraid of being Red-baited. Well I'm not, and I'm proud of the efforts I am making for world peace," he said.

Sometimes infidelity demonstrates itself in adultery—more often it is nonadulterous faithlessness that undermines marriage, says Rev. Margaret Johnstone.

Great Book Leaders Practice

Anyone who has taken a course at Victoria College in the last four years will shortly receive an invitation to take another.

Fifteen leaders to take discussion groups in the Great Books Foundation sharpened their wits last night at Victoria College in the last practice session of the leader training course.

They sallied forth last night with the fire of learning gleaming in their eyes, hoping to form more discussion groups after Christmas.

Dee Perguson, field representative for Great Books Foundation, last night conducted the ninth and last practice session for the group leaders.

The leader course, which began in September, discussed the works of Plato, Aristotle, St. Thomas Aquinas, Shakespeare, Rousseau, and Marx.

ANALYTICAL STUDY

The course is designed to develop analytical study and discussion of the great works of literature.

Developed by Robert Hutchins and Mortimer Adler at the University of Chicago, the Great Books discussions will be organized in Victoria for the first time when group leaders begin sessions in the new year.

The course is not a lecture course, Mr. Perguson pointed out. Students will hold guided round-table discussions.

The foundation has been active in Vancouver for the past three years. This year is the first time the course has been extended to Vancouver Island.

The discussion sessions are sponsored by the Victoria Public Library and the Provincial Library as well as Victoria College. Inquiries should be directed to the public library or the college.

Postage Stamps Will Be Shown

A free public exhibition of postage stamps will be held tonight by the Greater Victoria Philatelic Society at 725 Courtney Street, next door to the Orange Hall.

Long Distance service is faster—often twice as fast—when you call by NUMBER. Here's why. However, there will be no change in the southbound departure time, and the Sunday departure from Vancouver will remain unchanged at 6.15 p.m.

Name, Travels Bring Enjoyment

J Courtney Haddock is a Victoria department store manager who has had a lot of fun out of his name and his travels.

He mentioned some of his travel experiences in a talk to the Victoria Rotary Club yesterday.

Reminding his audience that haddock was a species of fish, he recalled a trip to England a short time ago when he had left his hotel before receiving an expected telephone call.

When the call did arrive the businessman at the other end of the line asked the hotel switchboard operator: "Have you Courtney Haddock there?"

"Don't be silly," the switchboard operator said, and hung up.

The inquiry was made a second time with the operator giving the same answer.

"Guess that switchboard operator is still wondering who called to ask if they had caught any haddock that day" Mr Haddock remarked.

On another occasion he recalled, he was in a small English village and not sure which road to take to continue his journey [illegible] on a bench near a pub, and taking it for granted the man was a resident of the village, asked a series of questions about various roadways leading to and from the community. To each question Mr Haddock received the very same answer, namely: "I don't know."

"Not a very intelligent citizen, are you?" finally quipped the traveling Canadian, by this time quite annoyed at the complete lack of help being offered.

"Maybe not," the old man replied, "but I'm not lost."

[illegible] speaker, referring to his most recent trip to England, recalled that during a considerable stay in that country he had heard "little, if any, mention of Russia, or talk of war." It was only when he returned to the North American continent that he saw headlines and heard about possibilities of war.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG, Nov 27 (CP)—Prices moved narrowly but generally showed a firm undertone in dull trade today on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

Some buying in barley was attributed to export and shipping account, with trade reports indicating two cargoes of Canadian barley sold overnight to an overseas destination.

Oats trade disclosed light domestic shipper interest. Flax and rye was mostly local.

Prices for the top grades of class two wheat and IWA wheat were down a quarter-cent from Wednesday.

Dynamics Give Spark To Market

MONTREAL, Nov 27 (CP)—The stock market closed irregularly higher. A few selected issues forged ahead for solid limited to fractions.

General Dynamics, up more than a point Wednesday, improved 3¼ points to 41⅝ after touching a new top of 42. Bathurst B jumped 1⅛ to 24⅛ and Shawinigan added 1⅝ at 42⅞. Aluminium, Walker, Bell, International Paper and Dominion Tar were better.

Steels and banks were irregular and highlighted by a point drop by Algoma Steel to 47.

Slow trading in mines produced an irregular tone with changes ranging from pennies to about 10 cents in either direction.

Western oils were quiet but showed a tendency to dip. Ten cent losses were chalked up by Del Rio and Anglo-Canadian.

Senior Golds Gain

TORONTO, Nov 27 (CP).—The stock market balanced gains and losses in the slowest trading this year.

Trading fell below recent low levels of activity as the New York market closed for Thanksgiving Day.

Strength in utilities and miscellaneous issues bolstered the industrial list.

Senior golds gained strength but Caribenour Willans and Barymin dropped pennies in juniors.

Ontario Pyrites and Eureka strengthened the base metals as both gained in active trading. Nesbitt Labine turned upward from recent losses.

Western oils showed a majority of losses led by a drop of $1.30 in Central Explorers. Canada Southern added 25 cents.

Vancouver Waits

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27.—Total sales were just over 50,000 making this one of the quietest days of the year. Movements were only fractional in most cases, and trade was confined to comparatively few issues.

In oils Anglo-Canadian was the best feature with a gain of 35 cents to 6.95, while Model was stronger at 1.20. Federated slipped back to 6.95.

Kootenay Belle and Kootenay Base Metals each traded at 5 cents while Beaver Lodge was lower at 1.11. Quatsino firmed to 59 cents.

Alberta Distillers was weak at 1.93.

Unrest Shown in Shareholders' Letter

BY HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

Unrest in the camp of one of Western Canada's older oil companies is disclosed in a circular to shareholders of Model Oils Limited.

The letter is from Russell J. Gee, chairman of the shareholders' protective committee of Model Oils.

He says that no satisfactory answer had been received from the company for the circumstances which ing of the stock from Toronto exchange.

The committee is also challenging in the courts a by-law made by the company September 19 which would limit the voting rights of shareholders.

The company is also accused of failing to call the overdue annual general meeting, originally called for September 22 but which was stopped by injunction.

Mr. Gee states that in the past 15 months there has been an important shift in the ownership of the shares and several large shareholders are concerned at the character of contracts entered into by the present directors.

These, it is claimed by Mr. Gee, have had the effect "of syphoning off a volume of oil production, which in our opinion rightfully belonged to Model Oils."

The protective committee will endeavor to elect a new board of directors, reinstate the transfer office for the company's shares in Toronto and apply for relisting of the shares on Toronto

Model Oils was incorporated in 1926, and has some producing wells in the Leduc, Campbell and Turner Valley fields.

Said by the protective committee to be run by a "family company," the firm is headed by W. C. Fisher, president; H. W. Riley, vice-president; D. R. Fisher, secretary-treasurer, and W. Grant McKay and G. Spargo, directors.

The company has offices in Calgary and has issued just under 1,000,000 shares. It paid a 2-cent dividend in 1951, and since 1931 has been paying dividends irregularly.

CANADAIR RUMORS

Rumors of new and greater aircraft activity at the Canadair factory in Montreal was responsible yesterday for a sharp rise in the stock of General Dynamics, the U.S. parent company.

General Dynamics without any lead from New York (closed because of the Thanksgiving Day holiday) jumped from $38 to $42 and closed with a net gain of $3.25. It was the highest trading stock on the Montreal exchange and third highest industrial at Toronto.

General Dynamics earlier in the month increased its annual dividend rate from $2 to $3 a share.

Among the end of the year dividend announcements which pleased the market yesterday was the 50 cents extra of Distillers Corporation Seagram. This enabled the big whisky firm to maintain its 1951 dividend rate of $1.70 a year and yesterday the stock advanced in eastern markets by 50 cents to $25.75.

Victoria Chamber of Commerce members will have a first-hand account of the Alcan development in B.C. at the Empress ballroom today when J. B. White, one of Alcan's vice-presidents and director of personnel, will speak on the implications of the Alcan project to British Columbia business.

Mr. White is a man well versed in the practical side of aluminum foreman, he was in charge of operations when the Arvida smelter was opened in 1926 and he was one of the first half-dozen residents of the city of Arvida.

He has been director of Alcan since 1937, and a vice-president since 1947.

Selburn Markets Manitoba Crude

The successful Hargrave well completed by Bailey Selburn Oil & Gas Ltd. near Virden, south-western Manitoba, will increase its Prairie petroleum reserves by more than 1,000,000 barrels, the Bassel engineering staff estimate.

Hargrave No. 1 well is on pump and presently making 50 barrels a day. The crude is being delivered to the Interprovincial Pipe Line Company's station at Cromer, 15 miles distant, at a return to the company of $2.57½ per barrel.

This is a slightly better figure than obtained by Alberta companies for crude of comparable grade, since its source is about 500 miles closer to Sarnia which is the competitive point governing prices for crude. Follow-up wells will be started immediately.

Gas Discovery At Drumheller

New Superior Oils of Canada Limited and associates have recorded a new natural gas discovery at Drumheller No. 14-25 well. So far a total of 67 feet of water-free gas zone has been opened up from depth 4417 to 4484. Maximum flow rate was 5,200,000 cubic feet daily and there was no pipe recovery. Latest test from 4474 feet to 4484 feet yielded gas at rate of 975,000 cubic feet daily and 25 feet of gas cut mud. Coring and testing is continuing.

The well is scheduled as a D-2 Devonian test and is three-quarters of a mile southeast of the Mazol Drumheller No. 1 well which has an initial potential rate of 1,220 barrels daily.

Victorians Featured in Duncan Curling Rink Parade

Victorians were prominent in ceremonies at Duncan last night which officially opened new curling rink built by Cowichan Co-operative Curling Association. Next games: Tomorrow: Chicago at Montreal, Detroit at Toronto.

The National Hockey League race remained unchanged last night with the four top teams involved in ties while the fifth place Boston Bruins downed New York Rangers, 3-1 at Boston.

The pacesetting Chicago Black Hawks battled to a 3-3 stalemate with Toronto Maple Leafs at Chicago to retain their four point margin over the Leafs and Montreal Canadiens who were held to a 2-2 tie by Detroit Red Wings at Detroit.

RANGERS IMPROVED

Bruins were never headed although Rangers showed vast improvement with Don Raleigh, Chuck Rayner, Leo Reise and Edgar Laprade all in uniform. They went ahead after eight minutes on a nifty combination play between Milt Schmidt and Leo Labine and made it 2-0 on Fleming Mackell's goal in the second period.

Ranger rookie Dean Prentice banged in Raleigh's rebound to reduce the deficit but Pentti Lund added an insurance marker for Bruins in the final period.

A Thanksgiving Day crowd of 13,247 saw the Wings gain their tie on a freak goal by Gordie Howe, his 10th of the season. The freak tally came at 4:10 of the final period when Metro Prystai fired a 50-foot shot toward the net.

Howe had fallen to the ice and his back was to the puck as he skidded. The puck hit him from behind and flipped between his legs and he shoved it past an amazed Gerry McNeil in the Montreal net.

The goal came only a minute and 42 seconds after Reg Sinclair had scored the first Detroit goal on assists from Ted Lindsay and Marcel Pronovost.

Dick Gamble scored Canadiens' first goal late in the second period, and Bert Olmstead made it 2-0 at 1:10 of the third. Detroit goalie Terry Sawchuk protested in vain that Olmstead was standing in the crease when he made the shot, which came after Sawchuk blocked a shot by Bud MacPherson.

It was a brilliantly played game with McNeil and Sawchuk each stopping 30 shots.

Hawks overcame two Toronto leads but it was the Leafs who had to rally to gain the tie on a goal by Sid Smith with 68 seconds left. Hawks still controlled most of the play and would have won but for some standout goaltending by Harry Lumley in the Toronto nets.

Neighbors Protest Park Site

A new site will probably have to be found for the proposed Little League Baseball owing to the unwillingness of certain nearby residents to consent to the Hillside and Cook site.

A resolution before city council yesterday to dedicate the Hillside, Cook and Higgins Street park and lease it to the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the "small fry" baseball league was tabled pending outcome of negotiations.

The plan called for the inclusion of the unimproved Basil Street which would necessitate the moving of a garage which now faces on the street.

Although the city offered to move the garage so that it would face Higgins, the owner of the house concerned is opposed.

Alberni Drops Two Games; Here Tomorrow

Alberni Athletics will be an aroused club when they meet Victoria Kins in a Vancouver Island Senior "A" Men's Basketball League game at Esquimalt High gym tomorrow.

The Athletics dropped their second straight game to Seattle University Papooses at Alberni last night and will be anxious to get back into winning stride.

Papooses scored a 72-65 triumph last night following a 67-63 victory Wednesday. Six-foot eight-inch Bob Godes paced Papooses with 19 points each night.

Harry Kermode and Norm Waugh paced Alberni's attack last night with 17 and 14 points, respectively. Al Brown and Don Hill, with 15 and 14 respectively, were high on Thursday.

Cougars Meet Bombers Today

The Cougars, losers of all three games on their prairie trip, will arrive home this afternoon, anxious to snap their losing streak.

Howe's Bid for New Scoring Record May Depend on Successor to Sid Abel

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (UP)—The loss of an old sidekick has threatened to ruin the hopes of Detroit's Gordie Howe that some day he might skate into the record books as the greatest scorer in ice hockey history.

Howe became hockey's number one player last season by scoring 47 goals for the Red Wings to lead the league in that department and tie his 1950-51 total points mark of 86 by adding 39 assists. It was a performance which earned him the Ross Scoring Trophy and the Hart "most valuable player" award.

In the first 20 games of this season, Howe has scored 10 goals. Yet there are many who believe the 24-year-old wingman's hopes for an all-time scoring record has been impaired by the departure of Sid Abel, who centred the Red Wing line which had Ted Lindsay on the other wing.

Abel left Detroit to become coach of the Chicago Black Hawks and there is no overemphasizing the part which he played in helping Howe to the threshold of hockey greatness.

Back in the days when Howe was just a hopeful youngster playing goalie on his high school team, Abel was playing for the team in Gordie's home town.

"A friend of mine was a bell hope at the hotel," Howe once recalled, "and when Abel wanted anything he'd let me take it up to Sid."

By the time he was 14, Gordie attracted the attention of the New York Rangers and was invited to their tryout camp. Gordie became homesick and bolted. But when a year later, the Red Wings invited him to their tryout camp, Gordie was happy to stay. The reason was that Abel was on the team and just being near him pleased the youngster.

When Howe went up to Red Wings in the 1946-47 season all his boyhood dreams came true. Because now he was playing on the same club with Abel, his old idol.

And it was Abel playing beside him, whose assists helped make possible Gordie's sensational scoring of the past three seasons. They have compared him to Howie Morenz, which is like matching a young ball player with Babe Ruth or a fighter with Jack Dempsey.

Hockey men know that Howe had to have more than Abel at his side to perform the feats which carried Detroit to four straight league championships. But they do insist that Abel's loss will handicap Howe.

"He's bound to miss Abel," explained Joe Primeau, coach of the Toronto Maple Leafs. "Anybody would miss a centre like Sid."

The Red Wings have tried desperately to replace Abel. A half dozen experiments failed but it looks now as if Metro Prystai may fill the bill. Howe even was tried at centre ice but is back at his old pursuit of Maurice Richard from the right wing spot.

All of which delights Montreal fans, faithfully debating what they contend is Richard's superiority as a speed skater and goal producer.

Detroit sneers back that Richard is "fed" continually while Howe is as well as a great ambidextrous shot an aggressive team player who shines in the dual role of scoring and making assists.

Meanwhile, everybody in the game is waiting to see whether it was a disastrous move for Howe when Abel went off to coach at Chicago.

Fill-In Bout Scores Hit With Mat Fans

Danno MacDonald, who was scheduled to appear in the main event of Ken Williamson's weekly wrestling card at the Victoria Ballroom last night was grounded through fog at Wenatchee and could not make the trip.

But to an overflowing house, it could not have mattered less. Williamson matched Honest John Cretoria and Curt von Poppenheim against Arturo Cosenza and Iron Duke Krauser in a tag team main event. The grunt and groan artists took it from there.

In one of the zaniest and action packed bouts seen in some time, Poppenheim and Cretoria gained the odd fall of three but drew the wrath of the crowd with their tactics.

The winners used every trick in the book, and then some, and the bout ended up with Cosenza lying in front of the first row out cold and Poppenheim and Cretoria taking turns at Krauser.

Cosenza was knocked out cold by Cretoria, who got him in a head lock and banged his head against the ring post.

Krauser and Cretoria battled to a 20-minute draw in the opener and Cosenza won the semi-main event when Poppenheim was disqualified for using foul tactics.

Named by Curlers

ERIC BULLOCK

Vice-president of the Victoria Curling Club and chairman of the construction committee. Bullock was appointed as secretary-manager at a meeting of club officials Wednesday night. He will assume his new duties on January 1. Meanwhile, construction of the Victoria rink is proceeding at a fast pace and it is hoped that curling will start some time between Christmas and New Year's Day.

Duncan Has Proud Moment With Opening of New Rink

BY JIM TANG

DUNCAN, Nov. 27 — Duncan had a proud moment tonight and the citizens of this mid-Island city had every right to it. Their spanking new curling rink was officially opened less than four months after start of construction and less than eight months after first plans were made.

It was a festive night and an estimated 2,000 Duncanites were on hand to watch the ceremonies which marked the end of a well-organized display of community spirit and effort.

The building of the five-sheet rink in such a short time is a tribute to Duncan in general and to Larry Marshall, an ex-Victorian, in particular.

STARTED WITH AD

It all started when Marshall inserted an advertisement in the Cowichan Leader asking anyone interested in the building of a curling rink attend a meeting on February 12.

Thirty-one showed up and formed the Cowichan Co-Operative Curling Association and the project was underway the next day when Floyd Moorman purchased the first share.

Construction began on July 29. On November 7, just 71 days later, Duncan youngsters were skating on the ice surface. This was in accordance with a promise to have one month of skating before the curlers took over. Curling will start on December 9 with 64 rinks ready for action. There will be a further skating period at Christmas and again at the end of the curling season next spring.

SMALL COST

Not only was the rink completed in near-record time but it was constructed at an amazingly small expenditure in these days of high construction costs. Cost of the quonset-type structure was approximately $29,000. The total cost, including about $28,000 for the ice plant, will be less than $60,000, less than half the estimated replacement value. And, as icing for their cake of success, Duncan curlers have the satisfying knowledge that they have their rink paid for before the first rock is thrown.

R. W. Strachan, M.L.A. for Cowichan-Newcastle, snipped a blue ribbon stretched across the width of the rink at about 9:15 and declared the rink officially opened to the cheers of a huge group which lined both sides and ends of the rink.

OFFER CONGRATULATIONS

Previously, congratulatory speeches were made by Max Zabel and Eric Bullock, president and secretary-manager, respectively, of the Victoria Curling Club; Joe Dukowski, manager of the Victoria Memorial Arena and Jack Michie, B.C. manager for the Canadian Ice Machinery Co. Ltd., who installed the ice plant.

The official opening was followed by varied entertainment, including a figure-skating exhibition by Mary Rose Thacker and Frank Koenders, pro and assistant pro, respectively, of the Victoria Figure Skating Club, the usually fine precision marching of the Victoria Girls Drill Team, piping by Pipe-Major Andy Pollock and Piper Jock Low and Fred Usher and his Hometowners who also played for the dance which followed on the ice.

PAID PENALTY

Led by the pipers, the drill team also took part in the parade in the rink in which Marshall and Bullock took a feature role. The Victorian, perhaps under-estimating Duncan enthusiasm, lost his wager that the Victoria Curling Club would freeze the first ice and paid the penalty by pushing Marshall in a wheelbarrow on the parade route and around the ice surface.

A large number of Victorians were on hand to extend their congratulations to the enterprise of Duncan officials. Noticed in the large crowd which lined the streets for the parade and later packed the rink were Aldermen J. M. Neely and Frank Mulliner, Mark Trueman, W. T. Straith, W. J. (Bill) Hyde, Dr. K. L. Moysey, Noel Collinson, Jack Adams, Frank Vincent, Gerry Lauder, Bill Dunstan, Bob Crawford, Bill Clark, Rev. J. A. Roberts, G. Walkey, George Tucker and E. LaLacheur.

All of them will probably be able to make a similar trip about a year from now. With the curling rink a reality, Duncan is turning its attention to the construction of an arena. What has been done can be done again and there is little doubt but that Duncan can, and will, do it.

Vic High Trounces Mount View, 5-2; Bill Abbott Starry

BY IAN GLENDAY

[illegible] School's prolific-scoring centre-forward, personally ruined Mount View yesterday at Royal Athletic Park in the opening game of the best-of-three soccer series for the Colonist Cup.

The short stocky player, only 15 years old but displaying the finesse of a seasoned veteran, rammed home three goals to pace the Fernwood students to a decisive 5-2 victory over the defending champions before a good crowd of chilled but noisy supporters.

Second contest is slated for the Caledonia enclosure on Monday with the city students strong favorites to lift the trophy for the first time since 1950 in straight games.

GREAT TEAMWORK

Although Abbott emerged as the individual star of the well played game, he had plenty of support. Victoria High played brilliant, heads-up ball, covering up mistakes with hustle and beating Mount View to the punch on nearly every occasion.

Victoria High's forward combination was at times phenomenal and the half-line worked well together, dropping in neat lobs for the forwards to finish off.

On the other hand, the defending champions were not at their best. Mount View's kicking was weak and the forwards lacked scoring punch. Late in the second half the Suburbanites showed flashes of the form expected of them and could make it tough for Victoria High on Monday.

CROWE MISSED

The loss of Gary Crowe, Mount View's starry centre-forward, through an injury three weeks ago has cut the effectiveness of the forward unit. Several times in yesterday's match the defending champions came close only to shoot wide or drive over the bar.

Mount View's best chance in the first half came at the 10 minute mark and it didn't miss. After Victoria High had conceded a corner kick, Al Orr dropped in a perfect corner lob which Ahtar Singh headed into the corner to put Mount View ahead for the only time in the game.

Then Victoria High took command of the play and pressed for most of the opening half. Bill Abbott equalized a half minute later with a drive to the corner after being set up by Chummy Crabbe.

BROTHER ASSISTS

Abbott scored his second marker six minutes later on a brilliant play with brother Bob. The centre-half lifted a high lob into the goal area and Bill Abbott got his head to the ball and pushed it over the out-stretched arms of Mount View goalie Gene Pedneault.

Harry Nicolson finished off the scoring for the winners in the first half, catching the corner with a dribbler after Pedneault misjudged the ball and was caught out of position. Victoria High led 3-1 at the half.

It was much the same story after the intermission with Victoria High content to hang on to its lead and Mount View desperately trying to get an organized attack under way.

COMPLETES HAT TRICK

Abbott completed his hat trick early in the second half, taking a long pass from Noel Boston on the dead run and drilling a tremendous drive from 15 yards out that zoomed in under the crossbar.

Mount View wasted three good opportunities to get back in the game midway through the session.

Don Donahue, Victoria High's netminder, miskicked but a back cleared in time with Singh charging in. Gordy Deacon fanned on a cross from Singh and minutes later Singh drove directly at Donahue on a rebound shot.

Jack Willoughby tallied the winners' fifth goal after the prettiest passing play of the afternoon and Doug Jones, who replaced Dick Stone late in the second half, scored Mount View's final marker, heading to a corner kick from Pete Winter.

George Robbins was the pick of backs and Singh turned in a strong effort at centre-forward for Mount View.

Line-ups follow:

Mount View: Gene Pedneault, Jim Munro, George Robbins, Alan Leggett, Dave Price, Norm McRae, Al Orr, Dick Stone, Ahtar Singh, Gordy Deacon, Pete Winter, Subs: Jim Leach, Doug Jones.

Victoria High: Don Donahue, Paul Simpson, Norm Curran, Dave McLaren, Jim Hermiston, Bob Abbott, Jack Willoughby, Chummy Crabbe, Bill Abbott, Noel Boston, Harry Nicolson.

Referee: Les Isaacson.

United To Try Experiment Against Royals

Coach Wally Milligan is moving to inside right with right winger Ced Robb moving into the centre forward post and Tim Walker taking over at right wing. Ray Wilkinson and Bernie Clarkson will look after left flank duties.

Although it conceded eight goals in the second half to St. Andrews last week, the defense will remain unchanged. Harry Carruthers pivots Den McGee and Jack Robbins on the half line and Bill Hope and Joe Robbins form the fullback combination. Bill McAllister will be in goal.

Alex Stewart and Murray Speller will be used for relief work.

Net proceeds will go to the injured players' fund.

The owner of the stock car that finished fourth in last week's Pan American auto race in Mexico has asked for an investigation of the first three finishers in the stock car section of the race.

Oarsmen Meet Wanderers, Seek Sixth Straight Win

J.B.A.A.'s first division rugby team will be out for its sixth straight victory tomorrow when it meets second-place Oak Bay Wanderers on the upper pitch at Macdonald Park.

Oarsmen have lost only one game this season but the persistent Oak Bay squad ran cut their first-place margin to one point with a victory.

In the other game, Victoria College Vikings will be seeking their first victory of the season on the lower field at Macdonald Park when they clash with third-place Crusaders. Vikings show only two ties in seven games but turned in their best game of the season against J.B.A.A. last week, bowing 9-3.

In second division play, Victoria College tangles with the winless Crusader Wanderers at Windsor Park and University School hosts Shawnigan Lake School at University School grounds. First-place J.B.A.A., riding the crest of a five-game winning streak, is idle.

In other rugby news, Dick Ellis, playing-coach of Oak Bay Wanderers, was appointed forward coach of the Victoria Crimson Tide by the selection committee at a meeting Wednesday night. Bruce McLean was named manager of the squad after the Reps' first game against North-Wests.

The forwards will work out under Ellis every Tuesday night at 7 p.m. at Windsor Park in preparation for Tide's second game against Vancouver Lions at Macdonald Park on December 26. Lions and U.B.C. battled to a scoreless draw in their first game while Tide edged North Wests, 16-13.

New Zealander's Amazing Run of Luck Led to Purchase of New Wonder Horse

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov 27 (BUP)—Dairay, a New Zealand four-year-old bought as a yearling for 460 guineas ($1,352), is today's most talked about horse "down under."

The new champion is discussed as a successor to the illustrious Phar Lap—who, like Dairay, was foaled in New Zealand.

Dairay sprinted to fame in Australia and New Zealand when thrilling finishes in the 91-year history of the two-mile Melbourne Cup, Australia's richest and most glamorous race.

On a rain-soaked track and loaded with 134 pounds eight pounds above weight for age—Dairay forged past 22 horses in the final seven furlongs.

Fifty yards from the winning post the big black New Zealander flashed in the front and raced neck and neck to a half-length victory.

Dairay's magnificent win created a weight-carrying record for a four-year-old surpassed only by Phar Lap. The "red terror from down under" won the cup at that age with 138 pounds in British and American race fans may see the wonder horse in action.

His owner, Cyril Neville, proprietor of a mixed business in the small New Zealand south island town of Greymouth, said he would take Dairay to either country depending on what transport arrangements could be made.

"I want to race him in the richest races in those countries and against their best horses. I have no doubt he would be as good in England or America as he is here," Neville said.

HUGE WINNINGS

Including stakes, Neville clean-

$150,000 with Dairay's Melbourne Cup win. He is believed to have won an additional $150,000 from wagers on the three previous wins.

It all started with a remarkable run of luck.

Neville, a small businessman, was persuaded to attend the Christmas trotting carnival at Auckland in 1946. He lost money betting on the first few days. Then racing got into his blood when he backed 13 winners in a row.

Neville arranged with a friend to buy a colt for him at the next yearling sales. The friend secured a colt which was later named Trench Fray.

In the hands of New Zealand trainer Clarrie C. McCarthy, Trench Fray won 10 races. Neville asked McCarthy to buy him another colt at the Trentham sales in 1949, and Lady Luck again stood by him.

WRONG ASSUMPTION

Neville saw McCarthy secure an attractive colt by Balloch from Broiveine—from the same blood line as Archer, winner of the first and second Melbourne cups in 1861 and 1862. He wrongly assumed the colt was his, but McCarthy had provisionally purchased him for another client.

When Neville learned McCarthy was not committed he asked him to let him have the colt.

"I thought it over and agreed to let Neville have him on condition that I trained him," McCarthy said.

Neville christened his new colt Dairay after the Neville children Dallas now aged seven, and Raymond, 11.

The colt McCarthy finally secured for his other client has not yet won a race while Dairay scooped the pool with 13 wins in New Zealand and Australia in little more than 15 months racing.

McCarthy was the first man to link Dairay with Phar Lap.

CURIOUS STYLE

When he bid for Dairay as a yearling it was because his curious "ground eating" walk reminded him of the action of Phar Lap.

The loping action of his hind quarters and overlapping of his hind legs suggests a great galloping stride and imparts terrific power.

On the track, however, Dairay is a joy to ride. He loves galloping and takes everything in his stride.

Phar Lap was another brilliant horse that knew what was good for him. The New York Herald Tribune in March 1932 described him as "a horse without nerves. Nothing worries or frets him."

Phar Lap reached his peak as a four-year-old in 1930 when the Melbourne Cup was among his 14 wins and two seconds in 16 starts.

Phar Lap arrived in America on January 15, 1932. He won the $50,000 Agua Caliente handicap and died of colic just 16 days later.

Canadian Gridders To Cut Biggest Grey Cup Melon

TORONTO, Nov 27 (BUP)—Canada's eight major football teams will cut up the biggest Grey Cup melon in the history of the 44-year-old classic this year, it was learned today.

A gate of $131,000 was expected when the Toronto Argonauts and the Edmonton Eskimos meet in Varsity Stadium this Saturday. In addition television and radio revenue was expected to total $22,000.

The first bite comes from a provincial hospital tax of 12½ per cent—slightly more than $17,000.

Then comes Varsity Stadium's rental fee which is based on a sliding scale and will probably work out to a shade over $14,000.

That leaves about $100,000.

Another $14,000 is lopped off by expenses of the game, travelling costs of the two teams, officials' fees, a $3,000 charge against purchase of the C.R.U.'s tarpaulin, and such items as $400 for 18 new footballs.

About $76,000 is now in the pot and $10,000 radio revenue and $12,000 from television ups the figure to $98,000.

Of this the Canadian Rugby Union deducts 12½ per cent, or $12,000 to cover organization expenses.

LEAVES $86,000

That leaves the pot at $86,000 which is split 50-50 between the Big Four and the Western Conference, $43,000 each.

Just how this money is split is secret, but it was a good bet that the cup finalists—this year Toronto and Edmonton—would get the lion's share in their respective leagues.

There were reports that both Edmonton and Toronto would take 60 per cent cut which works out to nearly $29,000 for each team. The runners-up in each league—Winnipeg in the West and Hamilton in the East—were expected to get a 20 per cent cut, or $8,600 each. The four also rans in the Grey Cup race—teams like Ottawa and Calgary—were said to be in line for a 10 per cent slice which works out to $1,300 a team.

Coast Soccer Receipts Up

VANCOUVER, Nov 27 (BUP)—Horace Lear, secretary of the Pacific Coast Soccer League said today league gate receipts have improved "with each outing."

Saturday marks the end of the first half of the schedule and Lear said gates in Vancouver totaled about $13,000. The figure does not include Victoria home or away games.

"The teams stand to profit the most by the improvement in finances," he said. He added that a win in the first half was worth about $92.52 compared to $87.22 last year.

U.B.C. Favors Canadian Loop

VANCOUVER, Nov 27 (CP)—The University of British Columbia Thunderbirds football team wants to pull out of the U.S. Evergreen Conference if a hoped-for Western Canada Intercollegiate Conference materializes.

Team members have voted unanimously to withdraw, but only if they have a Canadian league to welcome them. Thunderbirds likely will report their decision at an Evergreen Conference meeting set for the weekend in Spokane.

Detroit Walker Sets Seven World Marks

DETROIT, Nov 27 (AP)—William Mihalo of Detroit won the world's 12-mile professional walking championship today and bettered seven world's records—although hindered by a sand storm, gusty winds and 29-degree weather.

He finished in one hour and 25 minutes and 58 seconds to better the record of 1.33.30 held by Don Driscoll of New York ever since 1881. The other records—6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 miles—had also been set in the 80's.

Mihalo, 36-year-old factory personnel supervisor, beat Irwin Erkfitz, Detroit, 1.58.10; Edward Starzynski, Detroit, 2.10.05; Joe Burke, Miami, Fla., 2.20.10.

When the walkers finished they required the help of a doctor to remove sand from their eyes. The sand, blowing from a beach, had pelted the Belle Isle course all morning.

A spokesman for the World's Professional Walkers' Association said the 37-mile wind did not figure in Mihalo's time since he was walking half the time into the winds and half the time with the wind.

These were his other record bettering times: six-mile 41.25 (James Meagher, New York, 1882, 43.11); seven-mile, 47.55 (Dick Hibbard, Lillie Bridge, Eng., 1.02.15); nine-mile 1.03.08; ten mile 1.10.23, 11 mile, 1.17.38 (bettering Driscoll's marks of 1.10.05, 1.17.20, 1.25.16, respectively, 1881).

HIDDEN HOLE WINNERS

Mrs V. S. Godfrey won the silver division of the hidden hole competition at the Victoria Golf Club Wednesday by posting a 30-4—26. Mrs S. Haynes and Mrs B. R. McColl tied for bronze division honors with net 25's.

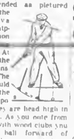
MINOR HOCKEY

All players in the pee wee division of the Victoria Minor Hockey Association are asked to be on hand at Memorial Arena tomorrow morning at 7 a.m.

Golf—Here's How

BY SAM SNEAD

Golf's Greatest Player Teacher



As you swing back from the address position your left arm is fully extended as pictured here. Note the hands have reached the hip-high position of the wrists. At this point the cocking begins. But slowly. The hands should not reach the fully cocked position until they are head high in the backswing. As you note from the drawing with wood clubs you position the ball forward of center. This because with long straight-faced clubs you get the correct flight if club smacks ball immediately after the clubhead has passed the low point of its swing arc and has started to rise. At the point pictured most of the weight has passed to the right leg but nevertheless a firm ground grip must be held throughout with the toe of the left foot. At the point pictured you notice from the shoulder line that the left shoulder is already starting to pass down and under the chin as the right shoulder goes back and up in the shoulder pivot. From now on the wrists will slowly start to cock reaching the fully cocked position when the hands are head high.

Delay Second Bid

VANCOUVER, Nov 27 (BUP).—Stock broker Art Mercer, newly-elected president of Vancouver's proposed entry in the Western Inter Provincial Football Union said today no move would be made to get into the league until at least 1954.

Mercer said the club organization was still in the formative stage and there were "a million and one details to work out."

Earlier it was believed Vancouver would make its second bid to get into the Prairie circuit next year, but Mercer threw cold water on that.

Australians Busy Preparing for 1956 Olympics

MELBOURNE, Australia, Nov. 27 (Reuters)—The next Olympic Games, slated for Melbourne in 1956 are a long way off but the Australians are already busy with all-out preparations for them.

Major item in planning the Olympics is a stadium where the major events will be held.

The Olympic stadium will be erected at a football field a mile and a half from the centre of Melbourne and workmen on the spot now are busy sinking test holes to determine the soil composition and rock strata of the site.

Soon other workmen will start tearing down the old football stadium to make way for the new one.

After a contest among 115 top flight Australian architects, the organizing committee selected Frank Heath, winner of this year's town planning medal, to

The plans he submitted will cost an estimated £900,000 to carry out.

The Heath design includes: Accommodation for 125,000 persons—50,000 seated, 30,000 standing but under shelter and 45,000 standing in the open.

The problem is to provide more seating accommodation without decreasing the total capacity or skimping exits and entrances. Heath aimed at clearing the whole stadium in 10 minutes.

His design sets the 615-by 490-foot oval several feet below the level of the present football field. The stadium buildings are correspondingly lower.

In two tiers, the highest seats in the stands would be 40 feet above the level of the arena and field.

After the games the stadium will be used for football and cricket and will become a "natural" for the big semi-final and final matches in Australian rules football league competition usually held on Melbourne cricket field which holds only 80,000.

The site for the Olympic swimming pool has been selected at Fawkner Park on the south side of the Yarra River three miles from the stadium.

Another competition will be held to choose the architect to design the pool.

Where to build an Olympic village of 600 houses has not so far been decided.

The federal government has the costs of staging the games. The Victorian state government will pay 25 per cent and the Melbourne city council the remaining 25 per cent. The cost is estimated at $2,925,000.

Greyhound Racing Now Major Industry; Ranks Second Amongst Ireland's Sports

DUBLIN, Nov. 27 (UP) Even if greyhound racing had not got its origin in ancient Ireland which many people maintain it had—it is now a national sport which ranks possibly only second to horse racing.

In the nation's capital of Dublin, there are two large grey [illegible] greyhound racing tracks, and throughout the country there are many more.

The rearing and racing of greyhounds is a growing industry, employing many thousands of people directly and indirectly.

In addition to the industry's internal value, it has also built up a lively export trade.

In 1938 the number of greyhounds exported to all countries outside Ireland was 3,225 to a total value of 76,773 sterling ($214,964.40). Of this sum 66,497 sterling ($186,191.60) was received from Britain and some 1,741 sterling ($4,883.20) from the United States.

BIG BUSINESS

In 1950 the number of Irish greyhounds permanently exported to all countries was 5,396, to an enhanced value of 422,008 sterling ($1,181,622.40). Of this total, Britain accounted for 399,693 sterling ($1,109,140.40) and the United States for 3,210 sterling ($8,988).

The 1951 figure showed an export of 4,701 animals to the value of 409,256 sterling ($1,145,916.80), Britain taking 392,551 worth ($1,099,142.80) and the United States animals valued at only 1,412 sterling ($4,037.60).

For the first nine months of the current year some 3,246 greyhounds were exported to a value of 296,682 sterling ($830,709.60), Britain accounting for 282,237 sterling ($790,263.60) and the United States for only 1,610 sterling ($4,508.00).

WORKING CLASS SPORT

Greyhound racing in Ireland is largely the sport of the middle and lower classes, inasmuch as wage earning can separate the people of the sports loving fraternity. The upper, or monied classes, more or less confine their attention to horse racing.

Most greyhound meetings are held at night when workers have the leisure to attend, and betting on the results of the various races is, of course, carried on at the track.

The Irish greyhound track somewhat resembles a football ground, oval in shape, with accommodation for spectators provided all around in grandstands or open terrace banking.

The sport is controlled by the Irish Coursing Club, which has its headquarters not in the nation's capital, but in Clonmel, County Tipperary, the greatest [illegible]

RECOMMENDS CHANGES

A report issued recently by an advisory committee set up to examine the greyhound industry recommends a reorganization of the Irish Coursing Club, the establishment of a control board, a transfer to that board of the control now exercised by the I.C.C. and the installation of totalisators on city dog racing tracks with a levy on betting turnover.

The committee also recommends the supervision by the Control Board of greyhound sales and exports.

Dealing with the possibilities for substitution of dogs, the report said that the present regulations offer considerable scope for abuse as definite identification marks are not placed on an animal until it is 16 months old.

The advisory committee report recommended the tattooing of puppies at eight weeks.

DOPING PROBLEM

The committee found that the deliberate switching of dogs with fraudulent intent at coursing [illegible] cally non-existant. "We understand," the report said, "that doping has become a serious problem and we have been told that there are certain interests which stand to lose considerable sums if a particular dog wins a stake. The interests concerned have been known to approach the dog's owner and by offering more than the stake, prevail on him to 'anchor' the dog."

The report said that abuses of different kinds, some grave, were rife in greyhound racing, and unless drastic action was taken to eliminate the worst abuses, and to remedy the reasonable grievances of breeders and owners, the sport of greyhound racing would deteriorate still further and ultimately disappear because of lack of public support.

Experts estimated that betting turnover at the two Dublin tracks was 2,500,000 sterling ($7,000,000) a year, and at Cork and Limerick 1,000,000 sterling ($2,800,000). Other track betting turnover was said to be about 500,000 sterling ($1,400,000).

ANNUAL TAKE

The committee reported that if totalisators were installed, the control board would have, after the first year, a net revenue of about 53,000 pounds ($118,400).

A levy on 2½ per cent on all course bets placed with bookmakers was suggested.

Manager Patrick O'Donoghue of Dublin's National Greyhound Racing Company, an acknowledged authority on all matters connected with the industry, said that he had no objection to the installation of totalisators and the imposition of a levy on betting turnover, if the money went to benefit the industry.

He pointed out, however, that a levy on course betting would make it harder on investors by extracting more money from them.

This apparently is the opinion held by most people not immediately involved in the taking of bets.

Yanks Offer Alternative Bonus Rule Amendment

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—The New York Yankees are prepared to fight for adoption of their version of a new bonus rule as opposed to the 3,000-word proposal by the major-minor executive council when the matter comes up at Phoenix, Ariz., next week.

The Yank proposal calls for a "ceiling" of $6,000 to a free agent by a major league club as compared to $4,000 under the executive council proposal. It also provides a $2,500 bonus if the player is able to make good in the majors in his first year. [illegible] posed in both amendments to the major-minor code. The Yanks plan would provide a $5,000 fine for a major league club and a one year suspension for an official found guilty of a violation. The council plans calls for a $2,000 fine for a major league club and a $500 personal fine with a suspension or period of ineligibility to be determined by Commissioner Ford Frick.

The Yanks outlined their position on several proposals to be considered at Phoenix. They said they will "carry on no crusade to retain the present waiver rule" under which they have bought stars from National League clubs to bolster their pennant chances. They plan to adopt a wait-and-see attitude on any waiver legislation.

As for the high school rule, the Yanks favors retention of the present rule that permits a club to contact—but not sign—a boy until his high school class graduates.

The Yanks opposed Cleveland's proposal to play all weekday games at night but will support continued local option on the number of night games under current restrictions.

Incidentally, the Yanks announced they will play the customary 14 night games at Yankee Stadium. Dates and opponents will be disclosed later.

On the subject of radio and television, the world champs disclosed they were considering televising some road games in place of home games. There was a hint that they expect to make separate agreements with the various clubs if no league policy is adopted.

In the matter of trades, the Yank spokesman said it was unlikely the club would be involved in any swaps.

"If we do it would be for a starting pitcher and a reserve infielder," the spokesman said. "So far Casey Stengel has declined to discuss giving up any regular. We have talked with two clubs and have exchanged letters with Washington."

Wardrobes Take Beating on Trip

Here is another entry from the diary of Jerry Gosley, creator of the "Smile Show," first West Coast entertainment unit invited to visit Canadian forces in Korea. The trip is sponsored by the Canadian Legion.

BY JERRY GOSLEY

ON A KOREA-BOUND PLANE Nov 13 (By Air Mail, Delayed)—Sitting opposite me in this R.A.A.F. Dakota are a couple of British officers, a Van Doo, New Zealander and an Australian—quite a cosmopolitan crowd

The luxury of rest camps in Japan ended as we stepped onto the plane—just the rough utility of the forces The scenery below [illegible] Islands of Japan that Kipling likened to Victoria

Our specially-made wardrobes are taking a beating I can see them now strapped down at the front of the plane upside down as usual, despite the fact that we had "This side up" printed on in Japanese for the special benefit of the Nippon drivers who handle them

MIRRORS STILL INTACT!

The wardrobes have been badly bashed about during the long jeep journeys over terrible roads—but the large mirrors set in the lids are still intact Some of the costumes are already ruined but that's just part of the game

Irene and Verna have been invited to the cockpit and by the feel of the plane they must be piloting it . . . they were, they've just returned after being photographed at the controls

We're now flying over this rugged country Korea. It looks a grim place in which to fight a war—war's a grim business anyway so what?

As in Japan, every little valley, and there are few of them here, is cultivated As we travel north the mountains show scars of earlier battles Seoul, we're over it now, seems terribly damaged

We're coming in to land, so more later

Pay-What-You-Like Plan in Cafes Pays Off for Staff Holiday Bonuses

The staff of two Victoria restaurants yesterday earned an extra week's wages by letting the customers set their own prices.

Customers have been doing that all week at the restaurants operated by Paul Arsena, but yesterday was the first time he has turned the profits over to the help.

As far as the waitresses concerned it was a fine idea from the financial viewpoint, but a tough day's work just the same.

Last night they said they were worn out explaining to people how the plan worked and instructing them on the use of the cash register which some customers were afraid of in advance and others learned to respect after they were punched in the stomach by the drawer.

CHRISTMAS BONUS

But the patrons of the two restaurants, which quit issuing checks Monday, were doing their best to boost the staff's Christmas bonus by contributing to the day's take.

Mr. Arsens said customers were charging themselves about one-third more than the menu called for, the list being topped by one man who insisted paying $5 for a cup of coffee.

Cashiers, who have been working harder explaining the cash register than they did punching it, said many people added $1 or $2 over and above actual meal cost.

On the other end of the scale was the man who ate filet mignon and left a card saying it was delicious and the service excellent and he would come "again and again." The card apparently noted 25 cents had been paid in cash.

MINISTERS WRITE

Mr. Arsens also had three letters from ministers in different parts of the United States, who said they would use his experiment in letting the customer set his own bill, as a subject for sermons.

They saw a proof that the average citizen is essentially honest in the fact the project has proved a money-maker instead of a financial flop as was forecast.

Despite the fun and the profit, the staff was about ready to call it quits and get back to the good old ways.

They said when the program winds up Saturday they would be glad to start issuing the customers bills again.

The restaurant operator, however, is already working on a plan for next year and looked thoughtful when it was suggested he might let the customers do their own cooking next time.

Staff yesterday divided take at two city restaurants as Christmas bonus and customers overcharged themselves one-third in effort to help feed the kitty. Staff day was extra gimmick in week-long plan by which customers have been setting their own rates. Getting ready to split big day's receipts are Judy Soyka, left; Hanna Baumgart and Edna Smith.

City Shipyards Drop Ultimatum

The operators offered a 7½-cent hourly wage increase and half payment of Medical Services Association benefits with the stipulation that all unions negotiating accept the terms.

A shipyard official said yesterday that they will sign up with any union that wishes to sign on those terms.

The unions endorsed a conciliation board majority recommendation for a 12½-cent hourly increase and the operators who had stood by the 1951 contract, made their offer after the announcement of the conciliation board recommendations.

The 10 T.L.C. unions involved are expected to report to the shipyard council at a meeting December 10.

Wismer Mentioned For Supreme Court

Gordon S. Wismer, former attorney-general, and H. W. Davey, Q.C., prominent Victoria lawyer, are being considered for the ninth seat on British Columbia's Supreme Court bench, legal circles here indicated yesterday.

B.C. was promised a ninth judge for its Supreme Court in the Speech from the Throne delivered in Ottawa last week at the opening of Parliament.

Another lawyer mentioned as a possibility for the position was C. W. Morrow, Q.C., of Vernon.

Mr. Wismer was attorney-general until his defeat in the provincial elections in June when the Social Credit party won the government.

Big Telephone Expansion Program Pushes Ahead in VICTORIA
. . . with More to Come!

Victoria's big telephone expansion program is pushing ahead—and there's more to come next year.

In addition to a $300,000 outside cable program recently completed, and a half-million-dollar automatic addition to the Victoria exchange now under way, plans call for another $100,000 cable project to be completed next year.

Additional telephones are being installed in Victoria as fast as the central office equipment and outside plant become available. More than 260 new telephones have been installed since September 1, and between 400 and 500 more instruments are expected to be installed between now and the end of the year.

The current automatic installation is the biggest automatic project undertaken by the B.C. Telephone Company in Victoria since the system was converted to dial operation 22 years ago.

By the time the automatic addition is finished, a foreman and 10 Canadian B.C. Telephones and Supplies Ltd. technicians will have put in thousands of man-hours of exacting, intricate work.

They will have soldered 90,000 small, individual connections.

They will have installed 500 miles of additional wire in the Victoria telephone exchange building.

They will have installed 1000 separate items of complex switching equipment.

They will have connected up 9900 relays.

Chief Justice Sloan Recalls Early Island Days

NANAIMO, Nov. 27 What strange alchemy of mind, heart and spirit brought the earliest pioneers to Nanaimo and Vancouver Island? "I cannot answer that. I can only stand in humility at their greatness."

So stated Chief Justice Gordon McGregor Sloan, native son of Nanaimo, great grandson of one of its first citizens and grandson of the first white girl born here, in an address to the [illegible] banquet, attended by 150 persons at the Foresters' Hall Wednesday night.

Today, the speaker said, Nanaimo stands upon the threshold of the great future which the pioneers saw only dimly. "We share a common heritage of which we can all be proud indeed."

Chief Justice Sloan is the great grandson of John McGregor who came around The Horn in the schooner Harpooner and the grandson of the first white girl born in Nanaimo, Mrs Tom Glaholm. He received his early education here and told the gathering "I still regard Nanaimo as my hometown."

R. T. Wilson, association president, said it had been founded 31 years. "These pioneers are the salt of the earth, nothing keeps them from attending our meetings."

The meeting was graced by the presence of nonagenarian Mrs. Martha Anne Randall of Departure Bay, whose father sailed on H.M.S. Boxer and was one of those to erect the first wooden house at that now thriving summer resort.

Attending from Vancouver were Graham McDonald and Mrs McDonald. "Although we left over 50 years ago I still feel my roots are deep in the soil of Nanaimo," he said.

Referring to the address of the chief justice who referred to first provincial coal mining efforts at Fort Rupert, Harry Freman, Nanaimo pioneer, says the first stone chimney ever erected in the province there still stands and recommended pioneers ask the government to have it restored and maintained with the parks and monuments of Canada.

Welcome to the guests was extended by newly retired Mayor Earle Westwood and thanks to the speaker extended by Fred [illegible]

DEEP RESEARCH

Chief Justice Sloan, drawing from what was apparently a deep research into history, recalled names of people who knew him as a lad, Harry McRae, Peter Weigel and Dr Brown, and noted that he spoke on the anniversary of a mining and metallurgical banquet given here 25 years ago in honor of his father.

His detailed account began with the Spaniards in 1799, the tribal confederacy which gave Nanaimo its name; the settlement of the Oregon boundary which led to the establishment of B.C., start of steamship services which produced the need for our coal.

While most Nanaimoites would regard the coming of the Princess Royal as the founding of this city, he said [illegible] other vessels preceeded this event by several years.

With the name of his own ancestor he coupled those of John and Andrew Muir and quoted extensively from the diary of the latter.

Of interest was the fact that a murder by Indians at Saanich in 1852 led to the naming of the river south of Nanaimo as Chase River where Gov. James Douglas pursued the culprits and that their capture, trial and hanging provided the first occasion in B.C. history that a jury was empanelled aboard the Beaver. The erection of the Bastion here stemmed back to that adventurous occasion.

His forbear, John McGregor, he said, was a man of such gigantic stature that single-handed [illegible] angry Indians who had frightened his wife at their home where children hid in the chimney.

The oldtimers were entertained by James Scales, Mrs. J. D. Findlay and Dr. D. J. Kirkbride in vocal selections, accompanied by Hilda Nuttall.

Prisoners Escape By Rope Trick

WAKEFIELD, England, Nov. 27 (CP) Four long-term prisoners escaped in the mist from Wakefield jail Wednesday night aided by a variation of the Indian rope trick. To scale a 15-foot wall they tied one end of a rope to a short plank and threw the plank over the top of the wall so that it jammed against two large stones. One after another they "monkey walked" up the wall and jumped to freedom.

"A perfect ending to the perfect meal."

Fire Roars Through Home

Blackened and charred, this kitchen corner was believed to be a point of origin of a fire which yesterday morning practically gutted the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Miller at 3103 Washington Avenue. Mrs. Miller and four-year-old son, Richard, escaped without injury.

Mid-Island Talks Set On Tourists

NANAIMO, Nov. 27—A general meeting of the Central and Upper Island Tourist Bureau Committee, with representation of all Chambers of Commerce in the area, is an early prospect, Bruce Armstrong, committee chairman, told the Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce Thursday.

Meetings have already been held with Alberni, Port Alberni, Parksville, Ladysmith and Courtenay chambers and when all chambers have been lined up, a board of management will be established.

Mr. Benwell showed a plan of the proposed structure, which will be largely glass. It is estimated the cost will be $14,000 to $16,000.

With the new Black Ball Line ferry and increased C.P.R. service it was now time the tourist bureau operated full time, said H. J. Evans, president.

Two Escape Safely As Home Destroyed

Quick-spreading flames destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Miller at 3103 Washington Avenue shortly after 9 a.m. yesterday.

Mrs. Miller and her four-year-old son Richard, were in the house when the fire started, but were able to escape.

City firemen, receiving an alarm telephoned by Mrs. Miller before she left the blazing building, had the fire under control within 10 minutes.

The wooden structure burned rapidly, however, with the house and its furnishings believed to be a total loss. Total damage has been estimated at approximately $5,000. Furnishings were partially covered by insurance.

Victoria's Deputy Fire Chief James Bayliss, who directed the firefighting, believed the blaze started in a kitchen wood-box close to a stove.

A shout of, "Momma, there's a fire!" from young Richard attracted Mrs. Miller's attention, she said yesterday.

Mr. Miller was returned to his house by city police, who called for him where he was working on demolition of an old house on St. Charles Street.

Mrs. Miller and her son were given shelter by a neighbor.

Ivan Wicklund Birds Take Best Awards At Sixth Annual Dressed Turkey Show

A lot of people were talking turkey in the lower ballroom of the Crystal Garden yesterday afternoon and evening.

They were attending the sixth annual dressed turkey show of the Vancouver Island Turkey Improvement Association, at which Ivan Wicklund walked away with the grand championship award.

His grand champ was a 33½-pound bird of the bronze broad-breast group. The big and plump beauty was auctioned off by Arthur Roberts early in the afternoon, being sold to city meat market proprietor Jack Stuart for $35. The money will go to the Queen Alexandra Solarium.

Mr. Wicklund also captured leading honors for his champion Beltsville White entry, his champion "A.O.V." entry, and took the reserve grand championship award. The birds came from his big turkey farm at The Diamond, near Ladysmith.

L. W. Marshall, of Sidney, was awarded the first prize for his hen entry; Mrs. F. Rosvold, of Wellington, won first prize in the pair of females contest; and C. McCulloch, of Langford, took top honors in the pair of males group of entries.

Highest individual aggregate winner in the show was C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, of Metchosin, past president of the association. He was presented with the Cmdr. C. T. Beard perpetual trophy.

Approximately 400 entries were on display in the show. Judges said it was becoming increasingly difficult to select winners with each year that passed.

In officially opening the program at 2 p.m., Mayor Claude Harrison extended high praise to members of the turkey growers' group who had made such remarkable progress over the past comparatively few years.

Best wishes for continued success in its work were extended the association by T. Denny, Victoria Chamber of Commerce president.

Ray Lamont, chairman of the show committee, thanked all who contributed to the success of the affair, and expressed appreciation for the co-operation offered by various officials of the department of agriculture.

Judges were David Brown and Pat Cain, both of the Canada Marketing Service in Vancouver; and Maurice Randall, district poultry inspector in Victoria.

The association concluded its show with a banquet.

Car Allowance Increase Asked

—AROUND TOWN—

A request from parks administrator W. H. Warren and 22 other city hall employees for an increase in car allowances was referred to the 1953 council yesterday.

In a letter to council, the employees said it was impossible to run a car for eight cents a mile, the rate set by council earlier in the year after it was reduced from 10 cents.

They asked that the provincial government system be put into force allowing a graduated scale of allowances averaging about 11 cents and depending on the car's weight.

"A more equitable arrangement is long overdue," the employees' letter stated.

The names of three of four Victorians scheduled to arrive in Vancouver from Germany on Saturday were still not available in Victoria last night. One is Sgt. Glen Akehurst, whose wife lives at 1149 Bewdley.

The Victorians are among the first group of soldiers of the 27th Brigade in Germany to be returned to Canada. They are expected to arrive in Vancouver at 8 a.m. Saturday.

There are 38 other ranks and one officer returning to their B.C. homes after a year's service with the overseas special brigade.

Tip Toppers Group of Victoria Plans High Time for Needy City Youngsters

Tall people in Victoria will provide a high time for a group of city youngsters again this year.

Members of the Tip Toppers Club here will underwrite a Christmas treat at the Rio Theatre December 20, in a continuation of an annual policy.

Children invited to the treat belong to families holding cards on the free food stall operated by Mrs. Barbara Green and helpers in the City Public Market.

Tickets for the special show will be given out at the stall, which will be open this Saturday for distribution of surplus food donations.

Mrs. Green said yesterday she was again seeking contributions to the stall. It will be open from 9 a.m. Saturday to receive donated goods.

Card holders are asked to call between 1.30 and 3.30 p.m. to pick up parcels.

Collection depots are again being maintained at the Black Swan Cafe for the Elk Lake district and at Prospect Lake store. Mrs. Michael Pope, 288 Kerwood Avenue, has volunteered to bring goods donated in the View Royal area to the stall.

Mrs. Green also appealed for bags of all sizes to be used in parceling donated goods which are often brought in on a bulk scale.

Premier Will Give Session Date Soon

Date of the opening of the first session of the 23rd Legislative Assembly of British Columbia will be announced next week, Premier W. A. C. Bennett said yesterday.

For weeks the premier has said the session "will be held at its usual time, around the end of January or the beginning of February." A likely date is Tuesday, February 3.

Name of the new speaker of the house will be announced at the same time, the premier said. J. A. Reid, Social Credit M.L.A.-elect for Salmon Arm, has been mentioned as most likely candidate for the post.

Alcoa Official Talks To Cabinet Minister

Lands and Forests Minister Robert Sommers yesterday met briefly with J. T. Growdon, chief consultant to the Aluminum Company of America.

It was the first official approach to the government by Alcoa, which has announced tentative plans for a huge new aluminum smelter in Alaska.

The company would need B.C.'s co-operation in the venture. The $100,000,000 project would depend for its hydro-electric power on B.C. and Yukon water resources.

Mr. Sommers and Mr. Growdon talked for only a few minutes.

Vancouver Will Be Scene at Week End Of Conventions of Right-Wing Parties

B.C.'s two right-wing political parties will hold their first post-election provincial conventions in Vancouver this week end.

More than 1,500 Social Crediters will get together today and tomorrow to exchange congratulations on the party's recent by-election victories, to elect new party officials, to talk about the government's accomplishments to date and to give it instructions for the future.

Progressive Conservatives meet Saturday to discuss their prospects in the coming provincial election and to name a new leader.

The Social Credit convention will be the biggest in years. Between 900 and 1,000 voting delegates are expected to be seated. In the galleries there will be another 600 or 700 visitors.

This morning will be taken up with registration of delegates and with short reports to the convention by each of the 11 Social Credit cabinet ministers.

Then the convention will start working on 400 resolutions submitted by Socred groups throughout the province. The resolutions committee will have winnowed the resolutions down to a manageable number before the convention opens.

Tonight Premier W. A. C. Bennett and national Socred leader Solon Low will address a public rally in Vancouver.

Election of officers probably won't come up until Saturday. Victoria's William Chant is one of several candidates for league president. Others are Hugh Shantz, Peer Paynter and William Savage.

Party leadership is the top item on the Tories' agenda. Herbert Anscomb, blasted by critics within the party since the P.C.s managed to elect only four M.L.A.s last June, has announced he will submit his resignation as leader to this convention.

The Conservatives have had difficulty finding a replacement, however, and the Oak Bay vintner may elect to try to hold on to the leader's title.

Two young men are actively seeking the leadership. They are Deane Finlayson, 33-year-old Nanaimo insurance salesman and Les Bewley, 35, a driving force in the Young Progressive Conservative movement.

Mr. Finlayson is reported to be backed by the party's old guard. Mr. Bewley is a party reformer who has allied himself with federal Tories against Mr. Anscomb and the provincial Conservative organization.

Express Parcel Warning Given

Victorians have been urged to send express parcels as early as possible to insure that they reach their destination before the Christmas holiday.

Deadlines for persons in British Columbia wishing to avoid disappointment are: to Newfoundland, December 8; to the Maritime provinces, December 10; to Ontario and Quebec, December 12; to the Prairie provinces, December 13, and to points within British Columbia, December 15.

Merchants' Opinion Sought On Length of Working Week

Victoria merchants this week have been asked whether they are in favor of operating on a five-day or a six-day week.

The questionnaire has been circulated by the five-day week action committee, recently formed by a group of city retail clerks, with a view to finding out how the proposed 40-hour work week for retail store clerks can best be instituted.

"We desire to co-operate with the storekeepers and we are willing to work the way they want us to work," said Peter C. MacEwan, chairman of the committee.

"If the stores want to stagger our holiday by employing extra help it is all right with us. If they prefer to work on their present staffs and operate on five days it is equally all right with us."

Mr. MacEwan asks all merchants to answer the questionnaire in order to help his committee in its research.

REPLIES RECEIVED

Although the circular was sent out only on Tuesday a number of replies have already been received.

No tally has yet been made but it has been noted that one large store already has its employees on a five-day week although the store itself is open six days.

The difficulty for the storekeepers over the six-day week is that with a 40-hour work week they would have to employ more clerks who would have their days off staggered.

Mr. MacEwan pointed out that the action of his committee in requesting a 40-hour week has been merely to give retail sales clerks similar conditions to those enjoyed in other businesses.

"We are not activated by any union nor are we working on behalf of the small one man stores," said Mr. MacEwan.

Zoning Battle Ahead

A [illegible] industrial battle is [illegible] city hall over an application for rezoning a piece of property on Selkirk Waters at the north end of Catherine Street.

The site to be used according to opponents for a mill is situated next to Banfield Park. Applicant is James Gray who has asked that the zoning classification be changed from residential to manufacturing.

Although the application is not yet before council a "grapevine" letter from neighboring residents states Mr. Gray intends to build a mill at the site.

Mr. Gray's official application is being considered by the town planning commission.

GORGE WATERS

The letter started off a discussion on the question of Gorge Water.

Mayor Claude Harrison said a definite policy would have to be set concerning the area on both sides of the water.

"Too bad we even let them get by the railroad bridge," he said. (The mayor was apparently referring to the B.C. Forest Products plywood plant on the northeast side of the water which stores logs below the bridge.)

Ald. Donald Smith took the view that "we need heavy industry in the city." Ald. Waldo Skillings agreed.

"The Chamber of Commerce comes to us for money to attract industry and every time it comes we do all we can to impede its progress," he said.

Gaglardi Pledges Pressure for Road

Public Works Minister P. A. Gaglardi said yesterday he will continue to pound on Ottawa's door for help in building a west coast road for the Island.

Mr. Gaglardi yesterday received a petition from 750 west coast residents asking for an immediate start on the project.

He said he had taken the matter up with federal authorities but had received no satisfaction. He would continue, he said, to press for federal participation in the project.

Mr. Gaglardi said Ottawa [illegible] coast points [illegible] an obligation to west coast residents.

The west coast road would be of considerable strategic importance, Mr. Gaglardi said and part of the cost should be paid by the national defense department.

City Council Protests Pay Phone Conversion

City council yesterday protested by telegram to the Board of Transport Commissioners, the B.C. Telephone Co.'s action in converting pay phones for 10-cent operation.

The company is making the change in case the board awards them a 100 per cent increase in basic phone toll charges from five to 10 cents.

"I question their right to make the change before judgment has been handed down," said Mayor Claude Harrison.

The board of commissioners has just concluded a three-day hearing in Ottawa on an application by the telephone company for an interim increase.

Cold Shots Not Rated Sure Shots

"Cold shots" are not sure shots. Victoria doctors said yesterday the injections of extract of "killed bacteria," so-called cold shots, had been in use for 20 years with doubtful results.

The report here came after stories were published of cold immunity being set up in individuals through cold shot treatments in the United States.

Medical authorities here said the shots had remarkable effect on some people rendering them immune to colds for as long as a year. With others the shots had no effect at all.

They quoted an experiment at the University of Minnesota where one group of students were given the cold shots and another group injections of distilled water. Rate of colds proved to be the same in both groups.

Authorities here said the cold shots and capsules made from the extract, to be taken orally, had been in use here and that some doctors thought they worked "and some thought they didn't."

Drinking Drivers May Get Bitter Brew

A "bitter brew" in the form of a double charge may be in store for drinking drivers who get involved with the law.

Acting upon a request of the Victoria Police Commission City Prosecutor Alan Bigelow yesterday said it would be quite legal to lay a double charge against persons who drink then drive themselves into traffic trouble.

It had been noted at Wednesday's commission meeting that many motorists charged with driving while their ability to do so was impaired by alcohol were "beating" the charge and getting off scot free.

It was suggested that either careless driving or dangerous driving charges should accompany the "impaired driving" count so a driver not convicted on the latter might be penalized on a lesser charge if evidence warranted.

Property Sale Approved, Super Market Planned

Rezoning and sale of a city-owned Pandora property opposite Stadacona Park for establishment of a super market was approved by city council yesterday.

Sale price is $25,000. Lands committee chairman Ald. Arthur Dowell said the land had been independently appraised at $22,500.

Rezoning to commercial use was recommended by the town planning commission provided that the company, Kelly Douglas Ltd., carry out the proposed building.

If they do not, the city council resolution provides that the land must be sold back for the purchase price to the city and the property will revert to its original zoning classification for apartment use.

Today's Favorite Recipe

[illegible]

One cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, whites of 3 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 3 cups cocoanut (about ½ pound). Beat whites of eggs until stiff, add sugar, cornstarch and vanilla. Put over boiling water for 10 minutes. Add shredded cocoanut. Place on cookie pan in heaping spoonfuls, and bake in slow oven.

Winner in Doll-Making Contest

Miss Marina Leece, 1503 Chambers Street, has been awarded top honors in the second annual nation-wide doll-making contest conducted by Seventeen Magazine in behalf of Save the Children Federation.

Miss Leece, who had her 17th birthday in October, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Leece, and came to Canada from England 16 months ago. She is now employed with B.C. Hospital Insurance.

"Senorita Rositta," her prize-winning entry, was made from a rubber doll face and a man's sock. The doll's clothes were made completely by hand, using embroidery stitches which she had [illegible]

At the school she attended near Liverpool, each girl dressed two dolls at Christmas time to be distributed to needy children of the district. Prizes were awarded but Miss Leece has never been a winner before.

Her doll, which was awarded honorable mention in the "Best Character Doll" category, will earn for its creator a Helen Harper knitted suit. In addition, Miss Leece will be featured in the December and January issues of Seventeen. Her winning doll was shown on the Kate Smith TV show, originating in New York on November 19, over the N.B.C. network. Miss Leece's doll was originally a blue ribbon prize winner in the regional contest held in this area by Frederick and Nelson's department store in Seattle, Washington.

The national contest was judged by a committee of nationally known women: Mrs. Ralph J. Bunche, wife of the director of the U.N. trusteeship department; Agnes de Mille, distinguished choreographer, dancer and author; and Anne Fogarty, prominent fashion designer.

The doll-making contest was launched by Seventeen Magazine in co-operation with the Save the Children Federation. Materials for making the dolls together with sewing and assembling instructions were distributed by Seventeen to 57 department stores from coast to coast.

Slippers, Toys From England

English stuffed toys [illegible] for their long-wearing qualities are in good supply in Victoria stores now. On display this week are terriers, scotties, spaniel and sheep dog puppies to mention just a few.

Ideal for the toddler are perky terriers complete with collars which sell for $1.50. Medium sized scotties and terriers cost $3.29, while spaniels both life-like and life-sized cost [illegible]. A full sized scottie costs $15.95 and a baby sheep dog $1[illegible].95.

A good way to teach the younger members of the family to put away their night clothes would be to supply each with one of the zippered animals put out by an English firm. They are made in varying poses of standing, sitting or sleeping. Lined with pastel material they are big enough to hold a pair of sleepers or pyjamas. Cost for the medium-sized terriers and scotties is $5.98. The same firm also makes larger sized zippered models of cats and monkeys as well as dogs.

Slippers in Many Styles

You would take it for granted that anything as Canadian as moccasins would be made in this country. Instead some of the best on the market just now are turned out in England. They are cuffed with sheep's wool electrified to make it more fluffy and dyed to match the pastel leathers of the moccasins. Prices are $5.95 and $6.50.

Something different in house slippers is the type which come in a plastic bag and sell for $2.95 a pair. Thick sponge rubber soles guarantee comfort while the washable tops are of knitted cotton lacing to the ankles. Colors are royal blue, red and green. They should appeal to the high school or college girl.

Good for wear with slacks in the home are the slippers of mesh banded in felt and finished with a fringed felt tongue. In blue, red, beige, pink, yellow and green, they sell for $5.75.

One line of quilted satin slippers has a low wedge sole with the top embroidered in colored thread. Colors are black and pastels and the price per pair is $5.95.

Plaid slippers for young children sell at $2.85. They are trimmed with sheep's wool and have a rubber "punkinhead" attached at the base of the instep. Moccasins for children range in price from $2.15 to $3.95, depending on the size. They are well made in blue and red leather with fur trim.

Sale of Hosiery

A department store is giving shoppers a good chance to purchase sheer or service weight nylon hose at a considerable saving today and tomorrow. First quality 60-gauge nylons are selling for $1.[illegible] a pair or three pairs for $3.[illegible]. The 45-gauge are even cheaper.

The sheerest of stockings cease to be a luxury when obtainable at this low price. The special sale will probably be one of the last for this year.

Clubs and Societies

At a recent meeting of Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie Chapter I.O.D.E. $40 was voted toward cod liver oil; $25 to secondary education, $10 to Christmas cheer and $2.50 to the Work in India fund. Mrs. J. W. Gillam, treasurer, reported receipts of over $65 from the fall tea and bazaar, and Mrs. E. Dakers, post war [illegible]

Oak Bay Catholic Women's League will meet Tuesday, 2.30 p.m., in the parish hall, Haultain Street. Please note change to the afternoon meeting which will continue during the winter. Children will be cared for in the play area while mothers attend the meeting.

Realize $130

The sum of $130 was raised at the annual Christmas bazaar and entertainment held in the Luxton Hall under the sponsorship of the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute.

Mrs. Stella Gummow, superintendent of the B.C. Women's Institute, opened the affair and was presented with a corsage by the president, Mrs. J. Flatman.

The sewing stall was in charge of Mrs. V. Caudwell and was very popular as was the home cooking stall in charge of Mrs. A. Mills. [illegible] convened by Mrs. H. Baxter and Mr. G. Johnson won the prize.

A table of children's gifts were sold out early in the evening and was managed by Mrs. W. Allen.

The Belmont High School band performed several selections.

Included in the program were dance selections by Judy Fraser, Jan Fraser, Dianna and Carroll Phillips and Georgina Hiscock.

Piano solos were performed by Marcel Bouver and Joan Allen.

FEET DESERVE BEST CARE

Comfortable feet are the fashion today. You achieve this happy state through sensible but attractive footwear and attention to foot health.

Foot ailments such as corns, ingrown toe nails and similar discomforts arising from im[illegible] sympathy from others when mentioned. This is generally because you haven't taken the time to give consistent care to your feet. Shoes that cause sore spots or insteps should be discarded—even though they are new and it means you must wear old ones until you can afford another pair! It is poor economy to raise a crop of corns or calouses that will give you trouble for a long time, simply because you did not buy the right shoes for your foot.

Always be measured for shoes. Have both feet checked for [illegible] width. When a salesman advises [illegible] lower heel in favor of a very high one listen to him and take his advice. Discard it if he tries to sell you the high heel instead of a comfortable lower type.

IMPERIAL BANK OF CANADA EXECUTIVES ADDRESS 78th ANNUAL MEETING

CHECK OF INFLATION ACHIEVEMENT OF YEAR

I. K. JOHNSTON
President

L. S. MACKERSY, M.C.
Vice-President and General Manager

ASSETS AND DEPOSITS AT RECORD LEVEL

Toronto, November 26:—Mr. I. K. Johnston, President, Imperial Bank of Canada addressing the Bank's 78th Shareholders Meeting today, stated that the past year has been one of great prosperity in Canada. Mr. Johnston pointed out that employment was high and as price rises have ceased the national income continues to grow. Mr. Johnston stated "The advantage we have gained over inflationary forces is perhaps the greatest achievement of the Canadian economy in the time that has elapsed since our last Annual Meeting".

Mr. Johnston felt the expansion of our productive capacity in 1952 seems likely to exceed even the most optimistic forecasts. While American capital makes an important contribution to maintaining the high level of investment, Canadian capital will continue to be our main reliance and "Encouragement of saving by Canadians should, therefore, be a major object of economic policy". To accomplish this Mr. Johnston expressed the hope that rising tax revenues together with exacting scrutiny of governmental expenditures will make tax cuts possible.

Referring to the export trade picture, Mr. Johnston pointed out that in contrast with most of 1951 the year 1952 has shown an excess of exports over imports and this was mainly due to a favourable change in the terms of trade.

Mr. Johnston, commenting on the high exchange value of the Canadian dollar stated that the abundant supply of American dollars for investment in Canada had led to the high value of the Canadian dollar. He felt however that the high value of the Canadian dollar on the other hand has encouraged the sale of Canadian securities held by Americans and were it not for this the upward pressure on the value of the Canadian dollar would have been greater. "It is my hope that the Canadian dollar will not be allowed to rise much beyond recent levels".

Referring to the 1952 wheat crop, Mr. Johnston stated that this will be the biggest in history, and added to this are some 100 million bushels saved by our Western farmers this spring which they had to leave unthrashed the previous year. Abundant rains this summer produced an average yield of 26 bushels an acre equalling the record set in 1915 and Mr. Johnston pointed out that at current prices this crop is worth well over $1,250 million.

Commenting on our resource development, Mr. Johnston expressed the view that while our position is basically sound, the marketing of resource products is not without its problems. Pulp and lumber markets have weakened, base metals are going at lower prices and gold mines are in a more difficult position due to the high value of the Canadian dollar but that our producers have both the initiative and faith in their ability to meet such problems has been demonstrated many times and continued Mr. Johnston: "The great promise of large increases in productivity from the resource development program merits the most careful provision for its continuation. It also depends on a wise public policy, sound conservation, depletion provisions, and appropriate tax allowances for development costs."

In forecasting the business prospects Mr. Johnston continued "A careful appraisal suggests that the Canadian economy will maintain its present healthy balance in the near future. There seems no prospect yet of the sharp fall in investment expenditure which heralds the end of boom conditions. The many projects now underway for the development of our rich natural wealth imply continued heavy outlays. Exports, the other basis of our current prosperity present a more sobering outlook. For the moment rising exports in a few fields have offset sharp restriction in other lines."

Mr. Johnston urged continued vigilance in the anti-inflation struggle and stated that the reversing of the upward trend of prices in 1951 was greatly aided by a considerable rise in personal savings. Mr. Johnston warned that consumer spending is once more rising strongly and consumer credit is growing more rapidly than it did in 1950. Mr. Johnston concluded "The tasks before us demand the maximum output of which the growing Canadian working force is capable. I would like to give this all the emphasis possible. I believe that Canadians are well endowed with imaginative and enterprising leadership, are a disciplined and responsible people and that if we use fully these qualities we have sound ground for confidence in ourselves and our future".

Toronto, November 26:—Mr. L. S. Mackersy, Vice-President and General Manager, Imperial Bank of Canada, commenting on the 78th Annual Statement of the Bank said in part:—

The Seventy-Eighth Annual Statement of the Bank shows Total Assets of $586,540,603. This is a new high and is an increase of $50,914,561, during the year. Before provision for depreciation and taxes the profits for the year were $3,099,987 showing an increase of $217,987. Provision for depreciation was $449,992, and for Government of Canada and Provincial taxes $1,331,000—an increase of $181,000, left $1,318,996 which is $[illegible] more than last year. Dividends of $1.20 per share amounting to $840,000 and a bonus of 20c per share totalling $140,000 were paid which left a balance of $338,996. We have written $200,000 off Bank Premises account leaving $138,996 to be added to Profit and Loss Account which makes the balance in that account $1,211,741.

Deposits at $519,793,617 showing an increase of $55,051,591 establish a new all time high. Non interest bearing deposits increased $1,748,[illegible] and interest bearing deposits increased $2[illegible],000,288 a [illegible] $40,[illegible]. Government of Canada deposits, however, decreased $2,078,032 [illegible] but this was more than offset by an increase of $10,312,458 in Provincial Government deposits. Investments, not exceeding market value, now total $222,[illegible]5,105 an increase of $15,776,804. Loans total $246,95[illegible],189 an increase of $1[illegible],876,815. Current loans increased $11,073,385 and Call Loans increased $1,242,309 but loans to Provincial Governments decreased $272,690 and Loans to Cities, Towns and Municipalities decreased $1,379,639. Bank Premises Account now stands at $8,248,485 an increase of $287,891. Our shareholders now number 3,379 and our branches, including sub-branches, total 2[illegible].

On the whole, the past year has been one of undoubted prosperity and development for Canada. While the unfortunate outbreak of foot and mouth disease resulted in the loss of livestock markets, it now appears certain that the epidemic has been fully eradicated and [illegible] reasonable to expect resumption of exports to the United States in the comparatively near future.

This year's Canadian wheat crop of 688 million bushels represents an unprecedented yield, exceeding by 20% the previous record established in 1928.

The income from agriculture should exceed that of last year's record of approximately $4,000 million.

Canada's oil industry continues to advance not only in number of actual wells but in further intensified exploration in all four of the Western provinces. The completion and use of the pipe line to the head of Lake Superior has resulted in an important percentage reduction of the imports of crude oil. It is quite within the realm of possibility that in the not too distant future Canada will be self sufficient in this important product.

There is no change for the better in the gold mining industry, while non ferrous metal production has to date this year [illegible] ahead of the same period last year. Aluminum production is up noticeably and will in due course be substantially increased when the Kitimat project is completed. Additional finds of uranium deposits are worthy of comment and the refinery now being built will, when completed, be one of the world's largest, if not the largest.

Shipment of iron ore, despite the recent steel strike in the United States, has been heavier. Development of the iron ore deposits of Quebec and Labrador continue aggressively. Even now the development is providing large scale employment and when in production will be of substantial aid to the general economy of Canada.

Business generally has continued at a high level with the possible exception of the textile and allied trades. In regard to the latter, there has been a definite upturn in the recent past.

One of Canada's greatest needs is a further increase in population through immigration. I stated last year that these welcome newcomers had been readily absorbed and in this connection, it is relevant to note that in a recent survey the number of unemployed persons seeking employment was approximately 1½% of the total labour force, and to all intents and purposes, therefore, it is correct to say that there is full employment.

Clergyman Not Registered

Validity of Esquimalt Marriage Queried

VANCOUVER Nov 27 (CP)—Validity of the marriage of a Canadian naval rating was attacked in Court of Appeal Wednesday on grounds that the officiating clergyman was not registered under the Marriage Act.

Mary Patricia Gilham of Victoria married the rating James Steele at Esquimalt September 20, 1947. The ceremony was performed by the Canadian naval chaplain who was a duly ordained clergyman of the Church of England. He had registered lapsed after he left for service overseas. He applied to renew the certificate which was issued two days after the marriage was performed.

The husband now lives in Winnipeg where he is employed by the C.P.R.

W B Monteith, counsel for the wife, who is a stenographer, contended the marriage was a nullity but Mr Justice Macfarlane, who failure of the officiating clergyman to register was an irregularity which did not invalidate the marriage.

Astor Fortune Halved

LONDON, Nov. 27 (Reuters) Viscount Astor left an estate in Britain at a gross value of $2,729,230, of which the government has lopped off more than half in inheritance taxes, it was disclosed today.

The viscount, who died in Sep to cover her "adequate requirements" and the use of all diamond ornaments left in trust by his father, the first viscount.

Among them is the 53½ carat Sancy diamond owned by Queen Elizabeth I of England, Louis XIV of France, a Russian prince, an Indian rajah and a Spanish king before the first Lord Astor acquired it.

After the deduction of $1,425,712 in inheritance taxes and several bequests the rest of the estate goes to his son, 44-year-old William Waldorf Astor, the third viscount.

Lord Astor left a separate will in the United States to cover his fortune there.

Astor, a descendant of a German emigrant who made a fortune in American real estate and furs 150 years ago, was born in the United States and came to England as a youngster.

He married Nancy Langhorne who became Britain's first woman member of Parliament.

Car Designers Asked To Cut Repair Costs

CALGARY, Nov 27 (CP) The Western Automobile Association has urged manufacturers to consider changes of design in future car models. Officials called for design improvements which would lower the cost of repairs and replacements after accidents.

The request, directed at the Automobile Manufacturers' Association of Canada and the United States, was passed unanimously Wednesday by delegates from the British Columbia Automobile Association, the Alberta Motor Association, the Saskatchewan Motor Club and the Manitoba Motor League.

Next year the W.A.A. annual meeting will be in Winnipeg when the Manitoba Motor League celebrates its 50th anniversary.

Interior I.W.A. Given Ultimatum

KELOWNA, B.C., Nov 27 (BUP) The S. M. Simpson Company, one of the largest timber operators in the Interior, today gave the International Woodworkers of America until noon Saturday to sign a renewal contract.

The ultimatum followed a government-supervised strike vote conducted Wednesday afternoon in which the workers voted 72 per cent in favor of remaining on the job.

Ninety-six voted for no strike action.

The I.W.A. is seeking a 10-cent an hour wage boost.

Earlier the company turned down a majority award of a conciliation board calling for a 3½-cent an-hour boost. The I.W.A. reverted to its original demands after the mill operators refused to grant the board's awards.

Readjustment Difficulties Heavy for Royal Family

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON Nov 27 (BUP)—It happens in the humblest of homes. And it is happening today in Buckingham Palace.

The sudden death of a father, a mother overwhelmed by grief, children desperately trying to cling to the happy household in which they grew up.

The neighbors of the humble [illegible] pening next door. But when the great gates of Buckingham Palace are shut, the Royal Family is in private residence. Only court sources know of their jealously guarded life beyond the limelight.

From these sources today came the moving story of the effect the death of King George VI last February has had on Queen Mother Elizabeth, Queen Elizabeth II, Princess Margaret and the Duke of Edinburgh, the late King's wife, his children and his son-in-law.

The children recovered first from the loss of their father, helped in Queen Elizabeth's case by the inevitability of her high destiny. Princess Margaret, without the sudden onrush of duties to distract her as in her sister's case, suffered a greater shock.

But the Queen Mother is still worrying her children. She wants to leave Buckingham Palace and go somewhere to live alone, to give herself up to her grief, her children fear. That was why she bought an isolated castle in Scotland, why she has constantly mentioned the tradition that the Mother Queen must leave Buckingham Palace to the ruling sovereign and get a home of her own.

Princess Margaret and Queen Elizabeth II have urged her to stay at least until a suitable place is found. Abetted by the Duke of Edinburgh, the sisters are vetoing every suggested residence. Clarence House, where Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke used to live, was an obvious choice but it is being "redecorated."

This is taking a significantly long time.

When decorators were recently at the palace, Philip gave instructions that no work was to be done near the suite in which the Queen Mother lives. It was feared she might use redecorating as an excuse to leave.

The most interesting public engagements are being recommended for the Queen Mother. When she took a flight on Britain's new jet comet plane recently she was persuaded to sit at the controls.

Princess Margaret has changed a great deal. She used to be merely pretty. Lately her beauty has become deeper. She is with her mother at every opportunity. Since her father died it is noticeable she has few dates with boy friends.

Last week it was rumored that Princess Margaret would be home of the Duke of Windsor, as an establishment of her own. The Queen Mother does not want Margaret to live by herself. The rumor was believed part of the campaign to keep the family together.

All this happens in the humblest of homes, of course, in varying degree. But it also happens in palaces.

WHERE ON EARTH IS A HORSE THAT CAN SPELL?

Unlike the old grey mare of folk song fame, Lady Wonder, a talented 29 year old equine owned by Mrs Claudia Fonda of Richmond, Va, seems to improve with age. But then Lady is no ordinary horse. As a matter of fact you might say she's a genius, for Lady Wonder can not only spell—she's a mind-reader! It all started when Mrs Fonda got the idea that most young horses have a sixth sense that no one has ever explored. So putting her theory into practise Mrs Fonda began to experiment with Lady—patiently teaching the young filly to identify the letters of the alphabet. But to her surprise not only did her pupil quickly learn to pick out numbers and letters on an especially designed "typewriter" by nudging the "keys" with her nose, she seemed to "know what her trainer would command even before the order was given!" The result of this astonishing discovery? Over 100,000 fascinated visitors have paid to visit the psychic mare's stable, just south of Richmond on Route 1, to try to stump her with some challenging questions. But chances are better than 10 to 1 that Lady spells out the right answers, for her list of amazing predictions is long and impressive. Lady Wonder prophesied the 1929 stock market crash, predicted Franklin D. Roosevelt's 1932 election before he was ever nominated, picked Harry Truman over Dewey in 1949 and we hear tell, even once picked 28 winners out of 28 at Pimlico!

Thanks, Arthur Halliburton, New Rochelle, New York.

Underwater Music, Self-Moving Cars Newest in Remote Control Gadgets

HOLLYWOOD, Nov 26 (UP) Cadillacs and mink are old fads around movietown by now so filmsters have taken up housekeeping by remote control.

A young electronics genius named Mac Brainard specializes in making fantastic gadgets for movie stars and other gadget minded citizens.

In one Brentwood mansion for example the lady of the house doesn't have to worry about the [illegible]

When the sun hits a huge picture window the drapes automatically close. After the sun moves on the drapes grandly open again all by themselves. Brainard installed an electric eye that does the work.

"She always takes her friends outside at night and shines a flashlight on the eye to show how the drapes work," he grins.

Brainard has installed buttons in automobiles by which you can turn on the yard lights, open the garage gate and start the phonograph [illegible] home.

One businessman can push a button in his home and open the garage door. Another button pushed and his car starts, backs out of the garage and stops in front of the house.

"It's done by a little motor that starts the car and drops the fluid drive shift into reverse. A timing device turns it all off after the car has gone 150 feet," explains Brainard.

One producer ordered music under water. The electronics [illegible] loudspeaker in the swimming pool so music can be heard clear under water, but not outside the pool.

Brainard, whose customers include Clark Gable and Donald O'Connor, made one movie executive's car theft proof. If the car is driven half a block without first turning off a "burglar alarm" the brakes lock, lights flash on and the horn sounds.

Brainard's electronics shop in Hollywood, which he claims is the only one in the world, also sells electronic controls operated by a dial in your bedroom. Dial different numbers and you can start the coffeemaker, open the front door for the dog or turn on the radio.

In one Brainard serviced industrial plant you can't enter the electronically controlled door to a restricted room without first whistling a certain tune. He has several customers who can turn on a light in their living rooms by waving a hand in front of a wall.

Comedian Lou Costello had Brainard design a secret room for his home.

"There's a photograph of Lou on the wall," says Brainard. "You put your finger on the nose in the picture and the secret door behind a bookcase swings open."

Weirdly-Garbed Crew Practices For Geographic Society Voyage

WASHINGTON, Nov 26 (NANA)—Berthed at a dock in the sunny Mediterranean harbor of Toulon is a sturdy ex-navy minesweeper peopled by a crew dressed for a trip into another world.

Weird figures wearing thick foam rubber suits, flippers on their feet and thick glass masks [illegible] water. On their backs are as many as three large cylinders containing compressed air to supply the masks.

The men are practicing. Not for some water circus or novel stunt but for a multi-million dollar scientific expedition sponsored by the National Geographic Society and scheduled to get under way some time next month.

It will take French Navy Capt. Jacques Yves Cousteau, his crew and scientists from the United States, Great Britain, France, Belgium and Sweden four years to complete one of the most exhaustive oceanographic expeditions ever attempted.

CALLED AQUALUNGS

The martian like suits and breathing apparatus invented by Capt. Cousteau, called aqualungs, will enable divers to descend 300 feet to study the flora and fauna of the world's oceans.

The old minesweeper now would cause any old salt to do a double take. It bears the romantic name of Calypso and looks like anything but a naval workboat. A special bulbular prow has been fitted over the original and a high aluminum flying bridge has been added to the superstructure.

The false prow is an idea Capt. Cousteau worked out to house cameras that will take pictures 24 hours a day of all sea life coming within range.

For the first two years the Calypso will cruise the waters of the Sargasso Sea in the South Atlantic, Bermuda Waters, the mouth of the Amazon, the coast of Patagonia and the cold Weddell Sea. The next two will be spent off New Zealand in the [illegible] the Great Barrier Reef, the Arabian Sea coast of India and both African shores.

SPECIAL CAMERAS

Capt. Cousteau has rigged up several pressurized cameras for taking underwater pictures of sea animals. He expects to photograph some that have never before been seen by man.

Most ingenious device aboard the floating laboratory is a non-fatal harpoon that will end for all time the scientific debate "how long can a whale stay under water. And how deep can he swim?"

The spear will shoot a device into the whale's thick blubber, not deep enough to kill. From the device an automatic signal will be transmitted that will be followed electronically by those aboard the Calypso permitting them to track the huge animal.

The French naval officer, considered one of the world's foremost underwater authorities, designed the aqualung because heavy diving gear hampered his efforts to get accurate data on deep-sea flora and fauna. He concluded that the only way really to study the habits of a fish was to get under water and swim along with him.

No matter how cold the day don't start the car in a closed garage. The fumes of carbon monoxide are deadly and they act fast in a closed area.

'Mikado' Given Professional Touch

BY RAY BAINES

The ninth annual presentation of the Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Operatic Society turned out last night to be one of the best yet.

Always a favorite, the wonderful G. & S. "Mikado" was in experienced hands and a near capacity house signified its approval enthusiastically and often.

For a volunteer, non-professional group, the society came pretty close to sounding, acting and looking like a professional group.

There were certain limitations in individual vocal work but they were few and far between.

Beautifully designed and colorful costumes, good make-up, excellent scenery and good choral work and last but not least, the wonderful music and lyrics of [illegible] tributed to a first-rate effort.

KO-KO ON THE GO

Top billing perhaps should go to veteran G & S artist Jimmie Mead Robbins who was very much at home as Ko-Ko. His obvious familiarity with the part was reflected in his bouncing comedy and vocal buffoonery.

As Yum Yum newcomer Ruth Champion displayed one of the best voices in solo work.

As her dainty sisters, Pitti Sing and Peep-Bo, Angela Clarke and Helena Williams were excellent.

As Nanki-Poo the wandering minstrel who lost his head to Yum Yum and nearly lost it to the Lord High Executioner, Alan White did a good job.

The pompous, mercenary Pooh Bah (Lord of Everything Else) was well played and sung by William L. Fahey.

A well-known oratorio singer and Gilbert and Sullivan favorite John Bray was good as Pish Tush and as the Mikado, Alan Robertson sang and acted well.

For those who were unable to attend the first performance last night, the lovely "Chorus of School Girls," the "Nobles, Guards and Coolies" and all the other inhabitants of "Titipu" will be there again tonight and Saturday at the Royal Theatre.

In case you have forgotten the names, there's also a host of immortal G & S standards like "The Flowers that Bloom in the Spring" and "A More Humane Mikado"—to mention a couple of our favorites. [illegible] performances of those two songs Yum-Yum's "The Sun, Whose Rays Are All Ablaze," "I Am So Proud," and, of course, "Willow, Tit Willow," sung by Ko-Ko.

To add to the quality of the whole performance, there's a good 18-piece pit orchestra under the direction of Melvin Knudsen.

Power Commission Official Predicts Shortage

NANAIMO, Nov. 27—Unless the Buttle Lake storage dam proposal is approved, Vancouver Island is faced with a 1954 power shortage, Charles W. Nash, district manager of the Power Commission, told the Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening.

This would be contingent upon a less-than-normal run-off in 1954 but the shortage under any circumstances [illegible] looms perilously for 195[illegible].

Coupled with Mr. Nash's remarks as he reviewed the operation and services of the commission, was the statement of R. H. Mawhinney, president of the Associated Chambers of Vancouver Island, that the power situation probably had considerable to do with decision of Western Canada Steel to build a $4,000,000 plant.

Whereas, he added, the logical place for it is Vancouver Island where 20,000,000 tons of ore are readily available.

Mr. Mawhinney placed the problem squarely upon the shoulders of the provincial legislature which he said, must act with all speed to provide adequate water storage for power protection, otherwise the whole Island economy will be affected causing drop in payrolls and decline of prosperity.

Mr. Nash who spoke along with L. E. Wight, assistant manager, said that units No. 5 and No. 6 in the Island power set-up will be ready by next summer. But he agreed with Mr. Mawhinney that without adequate water storage they would be "like a car without gas." Mechanical capacity would be adequate with these units but storage is necessary in case [illegible] are of run-off conditions [illegible].

Mr. Nash said that interests opposed to the Buttle damming were either selfish or ignorant, but he could not see that sports-minded citizens would be adversely affected by the restrictions imposed from the water controller which pledged the commission to clearing and grubbing a nine-mile access road for the [illegible] at a cost of $3,000 a year.

Mr. Mawhinney read the whole 11 restrictions placed on the commission and said they were eminently fair and felt that sportsmen actually would have improved conditions.

While chambers of commerce could not take sides in such a matter time was fast running out when the legislature should meet the problem without temporization actually during the coming session, he said.

Mr. Mawhinney who is a banker said the problem had a further aspect in that power commission has outstanding $10,000,000 in bonds at 3 per cent backed by public money.

That in itself requires that the commission should be given every possibility of continued progress as a protection to investment and he complimented the commission on astute financing, he said.

City Chinese To See Fete In Vancouver

Hundreds of Victoria Chinese will attend opening ceremonies of the new Chinese Benevolent Association headquarters in Vancouver Sunday.

An estimated 1,000 Chinese citizens from all over the province will gather for a monster banquet and celebration at the new building on Pender Street.

The original premises were destroyed by fire in 1951. The building was restored by a cross-country, fund-raising drive.

Uncle Wiggily Story - - -

By Howard Garis

LIKE A RAINBOW

"Come on, Jackie and Peetie!"

Uncle Wiggily was so busy painting his hollow stump bungalow with red and green paint that for a few moments, he did not notice the skillery scallery alligator with the double jointed tail slithering and waddling to round him out of the woods. Mr. [illegible] was perched on the top of a long ladder.

At the bottom of the ladder on the ground were several more cans of paint of different colors. Uncle Wiggily thought that Billie Wagtail, the goat, and Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, the puppy dogs, were still at the bottom of the ladder. But the animal boys were not there. They ran away at the first sight of the gator.

"Hi, Uncle Wiggily, up there on the ladder!" bellowed the gator. "What are you doing?"

"I am painting my bungalow," the rabbit gentleman answered, not knowing at first about the gator. "But why do you ask, Billie Wagtail? Your voice doesn't sound like Billie's. Who are you?"

Then Uncle Wiggily looked down and saw the skillery scallery alligator with the double jointed tail.

"What do you want, Mr. Gator?" asked the rabbit uncle.

"I want to nibble your ears!" growled the gator. "Gurr! Gurr!"

"Oh, no! You shall not nibble my ears!" said Uncle Wiggily. "I am high up on this ladder and you cannot get at me to nibble my ears!"

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed the alligator. "A ladder cannot stop me from getting you!" Then the bad chap reared upon the end of his double-jointed tail. With his front paws he got hold of the ladder and pulled it away from the bungalow. The ladder swayed and toppled. Uncle Wiggily fell off the ladder.

But the rabbit gentleman did not fall all the way to the ground. The ladder toppled into a tree near the bungalow and Uncle Wiggily perched himself safely up in a tree where the 'gator could not reach him. Billie, Jackie and Peetie, hiding in the bushes, looked out and Billie said:

"Do you think the gator will get Uncle Wiggily?"

"Not if Uncle Wiggily can play a trick on the bad chap," barked Jackie Bow Wow.

"Maybe we can play a trick," suggested Peetie Bow Wow. "Let's watch and see what happens."

A[illegible] the animal boys watched, the gator waltzed around the tree up which Uncle Wiggily was perched and the gator bellowed and grunted and said:

"Come down out of that tree, Uncle Wiggily, so that I can nibble your ears! Come down!"

"Don't be silly, Mr. Gator!" answered the rabbit uncle. "I am not going to come down out of this tree to have my ears nibbled."

"Then I will cut down the tree and you will fall out!" howled the gator. He stretched himself close to the tree. Then with his long tail, which was as rough and sharp as a nutmeg grater, the skillery scallery bad chap began to saw at the trunk of the tree. Uncle Wiggily looked down and saw that soon, unless there was a trick, the tree would fall. He would fall with it and his ears would be nibbled.

"Saw! Saw! Saw!" went the gator's tail. Then Billie bleated.

"Come on, Jackie and Peetie! I know a trick we can play on the gator! We will sneak up behind him and splash him with red paint, green paint, pink paint, yellow paint and skilligimink paint. We will paint the gator's tail. And when he sees it he will be surprised that he will run away! Then he can't nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears! Come on!"

Quickly the animal boys rushed out of the bushes. They caught up many cans of colored paints and painted that alligator all the colors of a rainbow. And when the gator felt the paint splashing on him, and when he looked back at his tail, all red, blue, green and skilligimink color, he stopped sawing down the tree and ran back to the woods. So Uncle Wiggily's ears were not nibbled and he was very happy.

And I shall be happy to tell you another story on Monday if the red piece of chalk will make a blue picture on the white blackboard in Hollow Tree School.

South's hand was too strong for an opening bid of one in trump. When North found the cell able to give a free raise in clubs South jumped to three no trump.
